Heart Fund Memorial Contributions Gain

Memorial contributions to the Oregon Heart Association for a 9-month period through March 31 totaled $16,712 as compared to $14,786 for the same period a year ago, according to C. J. Coleman of Heppner, local memorial chairman.

Coleman explained that all memorial contributions are earmarked for heart research. "This is a clear indication," Coleman said, "that persons who have lost a relative, friend or member of their family through heart disease are keenly aware of the need for continued research in the field of cardiovascular diseases."

The executive committee of the Oregon Heart Association agreed many months ago to allocate all memorial contributions for research in the belief that "this is the best way to honor the memory of persons whose lives have been claimed by heart disease."

Dr. Herbert E. Griswold, Jr., Oregon Heart Association president, reported that nearly every county in the state showed an increase in Memorial contributions.

Oregon Heart Association will spend approximately $50,000 for research at Oregon institutions this year. Projects are underway at University of Oregon Medical School, Oregon State College, University of Portland, and Reed College.

Change in GOC Post Requirements is Seen in Offing

Sgt R. D. Coleman, sector sergeant of the Umatilla and Morrow county area announced today that improvements and extensions in early warning radar may make it possible to reduce the Ground Observer Corps participation in the posts in this area from a 24-hour operational status to a ready reserve status. The specific date will be announced later after a conference between Colonel Arthur M. Sheets, Oregon state Civil Defense director, Captain Walter G. Andes, state GOC coordinator, and General Sam W. Air Division.

Sgt. Coleman said, however, that it is still necessary for post observers to keep up their readiness. What the progress in the Mid-Canada radar line and the Distant Early Warning (DEW) line does is to give sufficient warning time so that Ready Reserve post observers and filter center volunteers can be called up.

Sgt Coleman emphasized that this shift only applies to posts and filter centers in the interior of the U. S. Along the east and west coasts, the northern border and part of the southern border it is still necessary to maintain the 24-hour status.
