School For Deaf Tots Go-ahead on planning a $100,000 all-purpose structure to house and educate the state's pre-school age deaf youngsters was given Tuesday by the State Board of Control. But presentation of the preliminary drawings for the building, due for construction on the deaf school campus in Salem, prompted a question over the roll of the Department of Finance and Administration in approval of the building. The board decided to ask Attorney General Robert Y. Thornton for an opinion on whether the Finance Department's approval is required before funds can be allocated for buildings such as the deaf school structure. Construction of first buildings for the state's new correctional institution near Salem moved a step closer Tuesday as the board accepted working drawings for first-phase work estimated at about $2,000,000.
