By Phil Blakney

Our fight against sickness is a continuous one. Research workers are always seeking better drugs and new treatments. About one-third of the ingredients in last year's prescriptions were unknown the year before.

We must keep well informed. A newly discovered drug can almost overnight change a physician's prescribing habits, so there is no further need for the replaced drug. Every prescription pharmacy regularly discards these drugs that are no longer used.

Despite all this, the cost-per-illness of medicines grows less each year. You get better so much more quickly.
