

Ullmans Guests At Lexington Home

Mr. and Mrs. Newt O'Harra entertained with an informal meeting at their ranch home on Monday night honoring Representative Al Ullman and wife. The evening was spent in visiting and later Mr. and Mrs. Ullman gave most interesting talks on their life in Washington, D.C. Refreshments were served by the host and hostess to the following: Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Al Bunch, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Willard O'Harra of Heppner, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Baker of Ione, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ruggles and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Jones of Lexington.

Mrs. Ina Nichols was ill at her home on Monday and a doctor was called from Heppner. Dave Steagall of Portland and Bob Steagall of Albany were visitors last week with the brothers and families Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Steagall, Mr. and Mrs. George Steagall and a sister and family Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Breeding.

Floyd Smith of Glide was a caller at the O. G. Breeding home on Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Marquardt had as their dinner guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Bill Collier of Arlington.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barak entertained with a potluck dinner at their home on Saturday night. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Peck, Mr. and Mrs. Randy Lott and Mr. and Mrs. Don Hatfield and the host and hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Hatfield were dinner guests on Sunday at the C. E. Butterfield home.

Mrs. Helen Leyva and Mrs. Bernice Wihlon were Pendleton visitors on Monday.

Mrs. C. C. Carmichael was a Baker visitor on Tuesday where she was called for Federal jury duty. She returned to her home

"OVER THE TEE CUP"

By Jackie Labhart

It seems as tho' old man winter has finally won the battle of the survival of the fittest. Our last ladies day was the final round as Mr. Weather came in with his TKO in the form of one, well aimed thunder cloud, aided and abetted by a mighty left of freezing atmosphere. Thus we have accepted our defeat and have retired somewhat reluctantly to our respective corners until next spring.

The women of the Willow Creek Country Club met at the Elks lounge Monday for a very informal business meeting, lunch, and extended coffee hour. Tuesday evening, Mrs. M. V. Nolan was the teacher for that day.

O. W. Cutsforth is spending some time in Baker where he was called for federal grand jury.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Breeding who have been visiting their son Dewie Irvin, Grants Pass, are visiting their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Irvin.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Ledbetter entertained with an anniversary supper last week honoring Mr. and Mrs. Dean Hunt. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Hunt, and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Cole and the host and hostess. All attended a movie later in Pendleton.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bloodworth and Bill Steagall and Bill Bloodworth were among those attending the Lewis and Clark-Portland State game in Portland on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Butch Livingston and granddaughters of Spray and Lewie Swing of Portland were weekend visitors at the O. G. Breeding home.

Mrs. Jack Madden of Kinzua is visiting with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Cole.

The executive board of the P.T.A met at the Jim Bloodworth home on Wednesday. The purchasing of Christmas treats for the school children were discussed. Refreshments were served the following: Mrs. O. W. Cutsforth, Mrs. Lorene Ledbetter, Mrs. Jo Irvin, Mrs. Helen Leyva, Mrs. June Cooper and the hostess, Mrs. Bloodworth.

The P.T.A held its regular meeting at the school auditorium on Tuesday with the president Barbara Cutsforth presiding. The program was a skit "Story Book Land" by the 3rd and 4th graders and a skit "Sam Gets the Gong" by the 5th and 6th graders. At this time Sgt. Kissner was introduced by Norman Nelson of Boardman, chairman of civil defense of this district, who gave a most interesting talk and showed some movies entitled "It Could Happen". During the business meeting Mrs. Mildred Davidson was appointed high school room mother out of the junior class to replace Mrs. Ola Lancy who has moved to Arlington. Refreshments were served later in the cafeteria by second grade mothers Mrs. Joe Irvin, Mrs. Hughes, Mrs. Rena Marquardt and Mrs. Gladys Vinsen.

Let's not forget the high school play for Dec. 13th!

ty-six lady golfers were present to witness the following awards—Dee Gribbles for lowest gross scores, Harriett Hall, highest gross scores ("nuff said"); Kay Robinson, most number of strokes ever taken to play the nine holes, (in all fair to Katastrophy Kay, she was having a very, very bad time that day and has never come anywhere near that amount since); Grandmother Coramae Ferguson, most improvement shown in score. Marie McQuarrie won the door prize, a very red faced Jan Downen also presented Hazel Mahoney with a new golf ball to replace the personalized golf tee Jan had donated for the second ladies day prize which Hazel won. It seem's as tho' this little object was just received a few days ago and the first time Hazel used it, it broke. (I should make some comment here, but may be better left unsaid). This writer was also presented with one tea bag, blu ribbon and shiny silver tinfoil star attached which read, "high literary award—first place—it really is quite clever and I shall save it for a rainy day when I can't play golf and need a nice cup of tea to soothe my shattered spirit."

During our meeting we also elected new officers (see news story elsewhere in paper), drank coffee, discussed the serving of the Elks stag dinner this month, drank coffee, decided to discontinue ladies day until spring, and finally drained the coffee pots. (I was really quite put out that we didn't have tea, but guess everyone gets their fill from this tee cup.

Bill Walton, the golf pro from Pendleton joined us later during the meeting and gave us a few final tips and pointers on our golf game. He also informed us that you almost need the "killer instinct" while playing to be a really good golfer, and that you don't have to be crazy to play golf, but it helps. (Now I know what's the matter with all of us).

We informed him that we had 41 golfers on the course this last Sunday and he was amazed, as Pendleton had about 50 and they thought that was wonderful. (Shows what small town spirit can do I guess).

Tuesday Bill and I took some friends of ours from Tillamook down to the course to play a few holes, but before we departed Glen Ward came down for a cup of coffee, and we talked him into going with us. He did exceptionally well for the first time (If I am any judge) but he said he knew he shouldn't have gone for once he tried it he knew he would be a gone golfer... and he was. Looks as tho' the Wards will be joining our club shortly.

OVERHEARD: Pat Doherty, from Ione fell in the creek Sunday trying to retrieve a ball... that Grandmother Dougherty played the nine holes all by herself and not another person on the course... that I have grievously omitted Delores McDowell's name on my grandmother roster... and that Lucille Peck from Lexington shot a 44 last week. The lowest score ever made by a Heppner lady on our course.

Well friends (and I hope the ones I have chided still are) this is the last time we will be meeting over the tee cup until next spring. I have a somewhat nostalgic feeling as I write these closing lines because the old tee cup and I have become quite good friends this last couple of months. So until old man winter de-
