Creamy Corn Chowder

A creamy corn chowder gets a winter's meal off to a cheerful start. As a matter of fact, it's hearty enough for the main course if you make plenty for seconds and serve it with biscuits and a crisp green salad.

Using pantry shelf staples such as evaporated milk and canned corn, you can make this excellent chowder at a moment's notice any day this winter. The evaporated milk, creamy, economical and full of good nutrition, simplifies the recipe and gives the chowder extra body. Serve the chowder steaming hot in individual bowls or bring it to the table in the traditional tureen.

Corn and Bacon Chowder

6 slices bacon, diced
1/2 cup chopped celery
1 cup chopped onion
1 tablespoon flour
1/4 teaspoon celery salt
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup water
1 tall can (1 1/2 cups) evaporated milk
1 can (1 pound) cream-style corn
Cook bacon, celery and onion in large saucepan until bacon is crisp. Blend in flour, celery salt and salt. Add water, mixing until smooth; then add evaporated milk and corn. Mix until well blended; heat to serving temperature.
YIELD: 6 servings.
