

CARL BARTLETT

First National Names Ag Representative

Carl Bartlett, a cattle rancher for the past nine years, has been appointed agricultural representative for the First National bank of Portland in the mid-Columbia area of the state it was announced by C B Stephenson, president of the statewide banking system.

Bartlett will replace Lester E (Bud) Tibbets, who has represented the bank in this area for the past four years. Tibbets has been promoted to assistant cashier and general loan officer at the bank's Nyssa branch. Bartlett will be headquartered at The Dalles.

A graduate of Oregon State college and a native of Baker, Bartlett has resided in Nyssa area since 1949. He operated a cattle ranch there until 1953 and for the past five years has been a partner in a cattle feeding operation in the same area.

In his new post Bartlett will continue to offer friendly assistance on banking financing of agricultural, livestock and farm improvements, in Morrow county,

Stephenson said. "His background provides him with a fine insight into the problems of ranchmen throughout the area," the bank president declared.

Kelly Automatic Cylinder Press

As a 75th Anniversary present to our printing customers, the Gazette-Times is now installing a Kelly Automatic Cylinder Press in our modern printing department. When installation is complete (slow delivery of needed equipment prevents us from having it in operation for a few days yet) this equipment will nearly double the production output of our printing department and make possible much speedier delivery of orders. This press will also make it possible for us to provide you with a much wider range of printing services and assure the finest quality of work on all orders, no matter how large or small.

We had planned on having this new press in operation by now so that interested residents could watch it in operation, but it will be turning out printing for you within a few weeks and you are invited to stop in any time to watch it in operation.

COMING IN—With the aid of a fork lift truck from Heppner Pine Mills, the GT's press, a 2-ton piece of equipment, is jockeyed through a front window of the plant. The press has a capacity of 3600 17 by 22 inch sheets per hour and its addition gives the Gazette-Times one of the most complete printing departments in this section of Oregon.

WHAT'S DOING

D. A. Short, your Telephone Manager for Heppner

Care for a look at some unusual phones? Here are a couple of experimental types. You'll agree they're quite a change from the phones you use every day. So we've asked a number of people to try them out at home for a month. In the foreground is a new-style bedroom phone. The phone at left is even more unusual. The dial's built right into the handset. Naturally, it's too early to tell if either of these phones will ever go into regular service. But our aim is to find out what telephone users think of them. For what we learn from tests like this will help set the style of your future telephone.

You know that wire that runs from your phone to the pole outside? It's called a drop wire. With lots of new phones going in, you've probably seen phone men hooking up these wires. Most always, they have a few small pieces left over. Do they throw these pieces away? Not at all! These "leftovers" are put together into lengths of wire we can use somewhere else. Just like a budget-minded housewife, we make good use of our scraps!

These days, lots of people enjoy regular telephone visits with folks out of town. It's fun to phone someone at a certain time each week, for instance. When you plan a phone visit this way, you know the person you call will be at home. You benefit from low Station-to-Station rates, too. And when you look over the rates listed in your phone book, you'll be surprised how far you can call for $1 or less. Pacific Telephone
