

1958 PORCUPINE, MAGPIE AND RAVEN CONTESTS NOW UNDER WAY

The Morrow county hunters and anglers this week announced resumption of two contests for the control of pest animals and birds in this area.

They are a porcupine contest and a magpie and raven contest.

The porkys have long been considered a menace because of the heavy damage they do to forest trees, and both birds destroy nests and eggs of native songbirds and loss in the sheep industry.

The contest will be operated separately but the area too be included in both contests will be the same. It will encompass all land within the following boundary: Umatilla-Morrow county line beginning at the Columbia river, south to highway 74, east to Nye Junction, south on highway 395 to the north fork of the John Day river, down the North Fork to the John Day river at Kimberly, down the John Day to Service creek, up highway 19 through Fossil to Arlington, and up the Columbia to the point of beginning.

In the porky contest the nose is to be removed and will count one point. They may be turned in at any of the following checking stations: Gilliam & Bisbee Hardware, Anderson's Builders Supply, Heppner; Swanson's Grocery, Ione; Albert Williams Mercantile, Spray; Boyers Grocery, Monument.

Prizes will be announced later and a bounty the equivalent of 7 cents per nose, for porcupines, redeemable in sporting goods at the checking stations, is being underwritten by Heppner Pine Mills. Everyone is eligible for the prizes except forest service, game commission, federal fish and wildlife personnel and the state police.

Points in the bird contest will be given for legs and eggs. Each pair of magpie legs will be worth five points and each egg one point. Each pair of raven legs will count 20 points and each raven egg five points. This contest is open to everyone.

Both contests will close December 31 and the prizes will be announced later.

Little League Ball Organization Seeks Franchise

A complete organization for Little League baseball was formed Monday night at a meeting of interested parents and sponsors held at the high school. An application has been made for a Little League franchise and the name of Willow Creek Little League was chosen.

Officers of the organization are the Rev Lester Boulden, president; Wayne Snyder, vice president; Mrs William Sowell, secretary-treasurer; and LaVerne Van Marter, Jr, player agent. Managers will be Ray Massey, L E Dick, Leon Ball and the Rev Norman Northrup of Lexington.

League sponsors are the Morrow County Grain Growers, Heppner Elks lodge, Heppner Pine Mills and one more to be selected.

Committees reporting at the meeting were the committee on managers headed by L E Dick, Ray Massey and Marcel Jones; finance and team sponsorship, Paul Koenig, John Williams, Mrs Bill Van Winkle and Mrs Bernard Doherty; field improvement Ken Keeling, Wayne Snyder, Bill Heath, Albert Connor and Jerry Daggett.

It is planned to get the league started about the middle of May with tryouts and practice.

Only accredited representatives will call on residents and each will have an authorization letter signed by William C Heath, commander; Jack C Flug, adjutant and Forrest S Thornburg, trustee.

District Outlines 1958 Program

A plan of operations for 1958 was outlined at a meeting of supervisors of the Heppner Soil Conservation District Tuesday night at the bank building with Raymond French, chairman, in charge.

Among projects planned were observance of soil stewardship Sunday May 11, participation in the national Goodyear contest, a booth at the county fair, cooperation with the Wheat League in the conservation farmer program, annual district field tour, the annual farm-city banquet co-sponsored with the Chamber of Commerce and continuation of the educational program.

A monthly progress report showed conservation surveys completed in February on 3200 acres on the Alex Lindsay ranch, farm plans completed on 337 acres of the Mankin and Bunch ranch and 3238 acres of the land leveled, 1200 linear feet of Claud White ranch, 39 acres of irrigation ditches staked, one irrigation flume designed and 67 acres surveyed for land leveling.

Others at the meeting were Donald Peterson and Raymond Lundell, Ione, Alvin Wagonblast and Newt O'Harris, Heppner, John Wightman, N C Anderson and Tom Wilson, Heppner.

"Stars" Schedule Benefit Performance

An entertainment treat is due when Gordon Grady and his Hermiston amateur "Stars of Tomorrow" present their benefit variety show Fantasies of '58 March 21 at 7:30 at the Hermiston Jr high school auditorium.

The show will feature in addition to the "Stars", many outstanding acts from the county, such as a barber shop quartet, rope artists and others. The proceeds from the show will be used by the Stars to carry on their work of providing free entertainment to hospital patients and organizations in this area. Since its formation the group has presented over 200 free shows and has been highly praised for its work. The only income has been donations from organizations before which the members have appeared, including the Heppner IOOF lodge.

WE ARE THINKING ABOUT

CONVERTING OUR LOUNGE INTO A

Teen-Age Center

And we would appreciate hearing your comments and ideas. It would be completely separate from the rest of the building and would be open Friday and Saturday nights and after school. A juke box, soft drinks and sandwiches will be available and will be chaperoned at all times.

If we do make this change, it will depend on the reaction of the P-TA and on your recommendations. Please let us hear from you!
