

Heppner High School SCOOP

By JAN BEAMER

Rice, paint, and tin cans seemed to be the ingredients for this vacation as many students put their imagination and talents to work decorating cars of newly-weds. Marriages of Heppner students included Nancy Wright to Larry Huffman and Norma Geyer to Duane Alderman. Congratulations kids!

Back to school was like re-enlisting for many students who realized they had tests most every day, 5 days to get term papers in and several oral reports due.

Many college students have been or are home. Seems good to see them around. Some have been doing work on the annual and paper, all of which is greatly appreciated.

The Elk's party was a grand success—everyone really had a good time. That live music will do it every time!!!

Schedule of Events

March 27—Math Tests. Cup cake sale to benefit the Crippled Children, at noon.

March 28—Cup cake sale at noon for Crippled Children.

March 29—Chorus goes to Hermiston.

Lilly sale downtown for Easter Seal drive.

Selecting a college and deciding what's in store for next year seems to be on the seniors' minds as their high school days near a close. Underclassmen are just waiting for the end of school, not realizing that they haven't much time either!

Underclassmen's pictures have arrived and are distributed. Everyone is reminded to get their picture bills cleared up as soon as possible. This must be done by April 1.

Spring sports enthusiasts have appeared out on the rodeo field and they are getting ready for track meets and baseball games. A schedule of the baseball games is:

Irrigon, there, April 1; Stanfield, here, April 8; Echo, here, April 11; Boardman, here April 15; Umatilla, there, April 18; Ione, here, April 25; Irrigon, here, here, April 28; Stanfield, there, May 2; Echo, here, May 6; Boardman, there, May 9; Umatilla, here, May 13; Ione, there, May 16.

Coaches Mallon and Downen have found added interest among the students this year and are hoping for a good season. Wednesday evening the National Honor Society held their annual banquet and public installation. It was a very impressive affair and a "must" to mark on your calendar for next year.

Future Business Leaders are giving two cupcake sales this week with all proceeds going to the Crippled Children. Containers and signs have also been placed in the halls and classrooms for contributions and added publicity.

Going into state convention plans, president Helen Graham, state president Jim Morris, and advisor, Mrs Kirk are busily making important details work out, while other members are working up a talent show and performing numerous other duties to help towards the convention. At the talent show, initiation and awards will also be given out. The date is April 8, and will start at 8 pm. Your money will be spent for an evening's relaxation. Plan to attend and see just what Future Business Leaders do!

Styles of spring have peeked around the corners every once-in-a-while, but winter clothes are still being worn for the most part. No chemise styles have appeared yet, but most of the high school girls have given their nod of approval. The boys' thoughts just don't count now!

A Rainbow practice will be held Friday at 4:00 in order to be ready for the district meeting Sunday. Condon, Umatilla and Heppner's assembly's will attend the Lutheran church as a group Palm Sunday and then go to a potluck dinner. This will be followed by a school of instruction and entertainment. All Rainbow Girls are required to attend. They are also going to help sell Easter lilies Saturday morning, March 29.

Shopping has become a big item for many of the girls. Their new Easter outfits are problems. Seniors are still selecting their ensembles for the coming graduation events.

This week's entertainment included: A conservation program, which featured the conserving of human people and a National School Assembly which included musical numbers on a marimba. He also displayed his talents with puppets and other musical instruments.

A list is being made up of former Heppner High School presidents. Anyone having such information is asked to contact Janice Beamer as soon as possible so the list can be completed.

BE SURE AND BUY YOUR EASTER LILY FRIDAY OR SATURDAY, MARCH 28 AND 29!

Did you notice the auction sale date has been set ahead a week to April 19 so that your fishing won't conflict with your purchasing power. This isn't going to be a junk sale by a lot—have you seen the listings coming in? There is an extra good lawn swing; chaps, batwing and hair; new bridle, bits and spurs; some fat hens; driving double-trees; 20 or 30 neck yokes—just the thing to lighten that chariot load. There should be something for everyone. Could be just what you are looking for, so don't look any further until after the sale—it will be there.

The grounds are coming along pretty well. The more you work at it the better it looks. Fred Mankin knocked all the knots and part of the bark from the few remaining poles, some 200 of them. A few men could make short work of them since most of the posts are already set. Fred also has the chips and short pole ends cleared off the arena and burned so now if we had a couple of sections of old spring-tooth or harrow to smooth it off, it could be used.
