

Over The Tee Cup

By Jackie Labhart

"Oh, what a beautiful morning, oh, what a beautiful day, we had a wonderful feeling, we'd never get off the fairway. All our golf balls were lying like statues. Our drives went as high as a Mickie Mantle fly, as if they were climbing clear up to the sky. Oh, what a beautiful morning, oh what a beautiful day. We had a wonderful feeling, but alas, it went astray. (Along with numerous golf balls.)"

The above is a new version of a song from "Oklahoma" which could appropriately be called "The Golfers Lament." But despite the misguided movements, twenty-two women thoroughly enjoyed the belated sunshine that greeted us for our ladies day competition Tuesday. Those playing were Bonnie Mattoon, Ruth Van Winkle, Lucille Peck, Cork Norene, Kay Robinson, Betty Brown, Jan Dowen, Shirley Loyd, Polly Doherty, Doreen Jacobs, Dee Gribble, Laurel Cannon, Cathy Collins, Hester Creswick, Marie McQuarrie, Hazel Mahoney, Coramae Ferguson, Harriet Hall, Vivian Williams, Delores McDowell and Sally Cohn. Lucille shot a 50 and had low gross score, I luckily shot a 51 and had low net score (that's with your handicap), and Bonnie had the lowest number of strokes on the hidden hole, which was No. 9. (This hole can be a bearcat if you don't get a good drive.)

LADIES DAY QUOTES: Hazel: "I had more trouble today than Carter has pills." Cathy: "Honestly I think my ball landed in every swamp and mud hole on the course" Hester:

"Which end do you hit" (referring to the snake she found while hunting for a ball) --- Cork: "I think I'll give up this darn game" --- Shirley: "I couldn't drive, I couldn't chip, I couldn't putt, in fact I couldn't do anything today" --- Bonnie: "I lost four balls today, thank heavens I won one" --- Kay: "Where'd it go, where'd it go?" (she couldn't keep track of her ball all morning) --- Dee: "My gosh this waters cold" (wading barefoot it should be).

Upon returning to our cars after lunch, I noticed Lowell Gribble standing on the bluff overlooking the golf course, contentedly smoking his pipe and surveying his golfing domain. (No one works harder on the course than "Grib", so I imagine he does feel a great deal of pride seeing it look so green and beautiful). And while I am on the subject of men; Saturday they had quite a crew working on the new bridge across No. 2 green. Jack Loyd has also made directional tee markers for every hole and it makes the course look quite professional.

Phil Blakney told me that he, Clint McQuarrie and Harry O'Donnell played a real "conservative" game Sunday. He didn't sound too pleased about it, but Webster's dictionary says conservative means "within safe bounds", so you guess what he

How Standard uses earnings to back its faith in the future

Economic progress doesn't just happen. It must begin with confident, long-range planning to meet the challenge of the future.

As we see it, this is the challenge: By 1968 the U. S. will have 202,000,000 people . . . 17% more than today. To sustain this growing population while raising the standard of living, the nation will require 40% more goods and services.

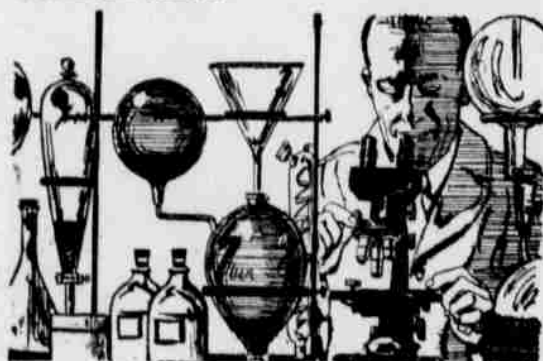

That's why last year Standard invested more than ever to help provide the future products for you and for the security of our country . . . and Standard will continue to invest, providing jobs and opportunities that can lead to a more abundant life for our nation and its people in the space age ahead.

The U. S. will need as much oil in the next 15 years as it produced in the past century. To locate new sources of oil and develop known fields, we invested $280,915,466 last year . . . drilled 968 new wells, of which 176 were dry holes.

To help transport more oil and finished products in the future Standard has placed orders for $148,368,510 worth of new facilities, including 10 supertankers, greater pipeline capacity and additions to our fleet of trucks and trailers.

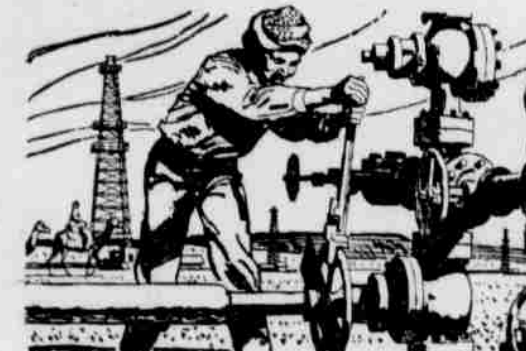

Research helps create new products . . . and new jobs. During 1957 we had 1400 full-time employees in research and technical services alone. As a result of continuing research we now make more than 1,000 products that were not marketed 15 years ago.

While most of Standard's income went back into the business, our 148,315 stockholders received about 4¢ for each dollar of stock investment at market value. Dividends encourage future investments, helping all business to expand and improve service.

Again last year Standard was one of the West's largest customers. Our purchases included 50,000 items . . . helped provide employment and payrolls for more than 10,000 large and small business firms in hundreds of Western communities.

Through affiliates we also helped advance progress in more than 70 friendly Eastern Hemisphere countries. Oil development helps local business, provides employment and supplies funds for education, health and housing.

"Always On The Watch"

By Phil Blakney

Nurses are members of the health team who deserve credit for their unselfish efforts to help the sick. Both hospital and visiting nurses often work long and tiresome hours for our benefit.

In our pharmacy we like to cooperate with nurses for the good of their patients. If there is anything we can do to make nurse's task an easier one we would welcome the opportunity to help. We believe there is no profession a young girl can prepare for that offers as much spiritual satisfaction as that of a nurse.
