Latest Weed Controls Given in Booklet

Latest weed control recommendations for Oregon are presented in a handy booklet just published by Oregon State college extension service. Oregon residents may obtain copies of the booklet from local county extension agents or the OSC bulletin clerk, Corvallis.

Titled "1958 Recommendations for Weed Control in Oregon," the 10-page booklet is prepared in chart form with brief easy-to-follow directions for controlling all major weeds.
 Specific weed control programs are also charted for Oregon farm crops, lawns, and small fruits and vegetables, plus controls for weeds in ditches and ponds. Included in the booklet are spray precautions to protect nearby susceptible crops or plants.

Former Resident Pays First Visit Here Since Flood

Former residents visiting in Heppner for several days early in the week, were Mrs Fred Marshall of Indianapolis, Indiana, and Marcus Gunn of Sacramento California. Mrs Marshall was accompanied by her husband.

Mrs Marshall and Mr Gunn are brother and sister and lived at Church and Main streets at the time of the Heppner flood on June 14, 1903. As the flood waters were approaching, the family fled toward the Frank Gilliam residence. The parents, Mr and Mrs Alexander Gunn, were overtaken and drowned at Church and Gale streets. The four surviving children were Mrs Marshall, Mr Gunn, Mary who now lives in Cambridge, Massachusetts, and Washington, D C, and Gertrude Elizabeth who resides in New York City. These children's paternal grandparents lived in London, Ontario, Canada, and the maternal grandparents lived in Detroit, Michigan.

On Thursday, following the flood on Sunday, the grandfather in Detroit communicated with the mayor of Portland who arranged to have the children taken there. Because of flood damage to the railroad tracks, it was necessary to drive to Lexington to catch the train. From Portland the young Gunns went East and divided their childhood between the grandparents in Detroit and in London, Ontario. This is Mrs Marshall's first visit to Heppner since she left four days after the flood. Mr Gunn, who is an officer of the California-Western States Life Insurance Company, has returned occasionally. Mrs Marshall stated that their visit here was made especially pleasant by the friendliness and hospitality of the people of the community.

Miss Kononen graduated from Heppner high school in 1957.

Heppner Girl Gets OSC Scholarship

OREGON STATE COLLEGE—Shirley C Kononen of Heppner has been named winner of a full-tuition scholarship for 1958-59 at Oregon State college. She is a freshman in the school of business and technology.

The scholarship was one of 19 sponsored by the OSC Mothers Club. It is valued at $222. The Mothers Club raised $4,218 for scholarships this year through special projects and dues.

More than 160 students applied for the study grants this year. Selection was based on scholarship, need, and promise of achievement. Winners were named Saturday as a highlight of the thirty-fifth annual Mothers Weekend on campus.

Miss Kononen graduated from Heppner high school in 1957.
