Over The Tee Cup

By Jackie Labhart

Well, we went, We saw. But we were the ones that were conquered, . . . by better golfers, fatigue, sunburns, and a twenty mile course (or so it seemed by the time we finished 18 holes, and believe me we were finished in more ways than one.)

In the aforementioned soliloquy I refer to the tournament held in Pendleton to which journeyed fifteen fearless females who returned as fifteen disillusioned damsels.

We really did fairly well tho' at least we brought home six new golf balls. For 18 holes Dee Gribble had low gross, I had low net, and Marie McQuarrie, second low net. For 9 holes, Bonnie Mattoon had low gross, Polly Doherty low net, and Kay Anderson second low net.

PENDLETON'S PREPOSTEROUS PREDICAMENTS—Shirley Loyd and Sue Valentine trying to get at least one ball over the pond. . . Dee and I the first to tee off (and in front of 80 women) . . . Polly getting heat stroke, or something . . . playing with women whose handicaps were 10 for 18 holes.

The men had their first tournament Sunday morning, and 28 fellows were on the course to tee off, or in, as the case may be. Larry Downen shot low gross, Bob Penland had low net, Clint McQuarrie won a golf ball for being closest to the pin on No 3, and to his utter amazement Phil Blakeney had the longest drive for the day on No 6.

MEN'S MISGIVINGS . . . Ned Sweeks 13 strokes on No 2. . . Keith Imus winning high gross score for the day. . . Harlan McCurdy spending $3.50 for a half hour private lesson in Portland and still not winning anything. . . Ed Bennett shooting real good golf until the last hole.

First round winners in our ladies tournament last week were Shirley Loyd, Polly Doherty, Hazel Mahoney, Cork Norene, Kay Robinson, Dee Gribble, Cathy Collins, and Marie McQuarrie. Twenty-three women played Tuesday during our weekly ladies day. And as Polly said, after Pendleton our little course seemed like child's play.

Ruth Van Winkle shot low gross for the day (a fabulous 45. . . and to think when she played her tournament match she shot a 66. . . oh well, you can't win them all.) Shirley Loyd had low net for the day (now hear this . . . a 16), and Rose Baker won a prize for having the most sevens on her score.

NEWS FLASHES—Coramae Ferguson has decided not to sell her golf clubs (she shot a good game of golf Tuesday) . . . we gals lost a total of 15 golf balls Tuesday (finders are not keepers, and the losers are weepers, so please return to box) . . . Shirley Loyd "sabotaged" Hester Creswick during their tournament match (she offered Hester some of her sun tan lotion which turned out to be a poisoning potion for Hester . . . she was allergic to it.)

Until next week when the tee leaves will again reveal more golfing chatter. . . good golfing everyone.
