Over The Tee Cup

By Jackie Labhart

Well it finally happened. . . one of the fairer sex finally conquered the invincible thirtys; and a happier person I have never seen than Dee Gribble when she shot 38 Friday. She even beat the two men in her threesome, they shall remain unnamed, but at present they are with Dee and Donna McCurdy, and probably entered in the state Elks golf tournament in Roseburg as you read this. . . John Williams and Del Jordan are also playing in this tournament, so the Heppner Elks should be well represented.

For the first time in her life, Marie McQuarrie broke the fifty barrier and shot a 48 ladies day to win a new golf ball for low gross score for the day. Polly Doherty was closest to the pin with her drive on No 1 and also won a prize. Sue Valentine had the lowest number of strokes (4) on the hidden hole, which was No 9. (She was pretty sly about it tho', for her drive went into the bank on the right, hit a well placed rock and ricocheted right up the middle of the fairway).

OVERHEARD LADIES DAY. . . that Kay Robinson rode her son's bicycle down to the course, (but she shipped her clubs by automobile) . . . Bonnie Mattoon saying, "I hear every one has a good day of golf sometime, but

"I'm still looking for mine." . . that Gene Case is going to invent some kind of harness to hold her head down when she is making her shots. . . that Cork Norene is one of the best lost ball retrievers on the course.

Wednesday, June 11, the ladies of Willow Creek Country club have been invited to Kinzua for lunch and an afternoon of golf. All interested women are asked to contact Shirley Loyd by Saturday, June 7.

For all forthcoming ladies days, tee off time will be between 8 and 9 o'clock and instructions for the day's play will be posted on the bulletin board. (So tee off as soon as you arrive on the course and this will speed up the mornings play. . . we hope.)

Hazel Mahoney and Cathy Collins are the two finalists in the womens handicap tournament, and the tournament awards will be made next ladies day so all women golfers plan to attend.

"ODD SHOTS" . . . I was told that Sunday the Downens, Valentines and Loyds played a round of golf as kind of a fairwell game with the Downens. But I understand that none of them "faired to well" due to previous activities before the game. I saw Raymond Ferguson on the course for the first time Saturday with Coramae, Phil and Bob Mahoney. (Guess he figured "if you can't fight 'em, join 'em.) I wonder if Ruth Van Winkle (who is flying to Alaska with her husband Jack this weekend) has made up her mind whether to take her golf clubs or clothing for her required amount of luggage weight.

I am going to put the tee cup on the shelf for a few days while the family and I endeavor to play some golf on other courses throughout the state, so until we return the golfing news will be written by Marie McQuarrie and with no tea leaves to read, her news will be strictly factual.
