Infestations of bindweed (creeping jenny) like this can take over if left uncontrolled. Millions of dollars are lost each year from noxious weeds, which can now be controlled with new Du Pont Tryben® 200. trademark

NOW... control bindweed and other noxious weeds and vines with new Du Pont TRYBEN 200 WEED KILLER

Du Pont "Tryben" 200 is a new weed killer that gives excellent, economical control of such perennial weeds as field bindweed (creeping jenny), leafy spurge, Canada thistle, Russian knapweed and burragweed. "Tryben" 200—a liquid to be diluted with water for use as a spray—also controls a wide range of perennial and annual broadleaf weeds, as well as woody vines, such as trumpet vine and brush.

Many successful trials of new "Tryben" 200 have been made in states where deep-rooted perennial weeds are a problem. These trials show that "Tryben" 200 will keep roadsides, rights-of-way and fence rows free of noxious weeds that have been difficult to kill with other chemicals... and also prevent them from spreading into cultivated fields.
