

Over The Tee Cup

By JACKIE LABHART

With the coming of the sun during the three day holiday last weekend, our golf course was mecca of fun for those of us who stayed at home. Among the many players were Bev and Eddie Gunderson, Bebe and Riley Munkers, Bob and Marylou Kelly (from Everett, Washington), Harold and Arolene Laird, Rosetta and Ted Palmateer, and Judge and Juanita Carmichael, to mention just a few.

The evenings seem to be the best time to play during these sweltering days, but you do run into a little difficulty in trying to see your ball when driving straight into old "Sol's" face. (But believe me it's better than his face driving into you during the heat of the day).

Thirteen wilted women, wearily wound their way around the course for our weekly ladies day, and despite our early start at 7:30 it was still mighty hot. (In fact I think some of the players deliberately drove their balls into the creek, so they could wade in after them.)

Sue Valentine and I tied for low gross of 42 and the following prizes were given: Arolene Laird and I tied for the most threes on the score card, Sue had the most fours, and I had the most fives. (This was certainly my day for tying, but wish I hadn't tied into my drive so much on No. 3.)

Other "melting maidens" present were Marie McQuarrie, Bev Gunderson, Inez Meador, Dolores McDowell, Coramae Ferguson, Bonnie Mattoon, Polly Doherty, Ruth Van Winkle, Doreen Jacobs, and Hazel Mahoney.

OVERHEARD . . . that Tom Driscoll made a hole in one on No. 1, but couldn't count it as it was his second ball, the first one went in the creek. (To coin a phrase—seems a shame but "that's the way the old ball bounces.") . . . that Eddie Gunderson shot a 37 Saturday . . . that Polly Doherty finally broke into the forties, (she must have found the cup and "Polly Put The Kettle On.") . . . that Larry Prock is consistently shooting around a 35 (looks like Heppner might have a champion in the making) . . . that John Williams plays a better game of golf when he is helping Vivian (never under estimate the power of a woman) . . . that there are about 100 marked golf balls in a box at the hotel, so please contact Bonnie or Al Mattoon and they will show you where to start digging.

I don't seem to have much news about the men this week; guess they do most of their golfing in the early morning before work. And they say that only the early bird gets the worm (or in this case I should say word), but whether I get the word or not I'm not going to be that early of a bird.

Well, after all that mixup of words in the last sentence I had better quit while I am still ahead, so until next week that's par for now.

A Jewel Of A Cake

Surprise your family on with this easy to make Leprechaun Cake that harbors hidden treasure just as Irish folklore tells us. Frosted with whipped cream and gaily garnished with green maraschino cherries for shamrocks, the treasure is revealed in the bottom layer of the cake, which is emerald in color and fruity in flavor.

The trick is easy to do with lime-flavored gelatin prepared according to package directions. Poured over the cake layer and then chilled.

Leprechaun Cake

1 package lime-flavored gelatin 1 cup whipping cream
2 nine-inch sponge cake layers 2 tablespoons sugar

Prepare gelatin according to package directions. Place one cake layer in 9-inch cake pan and pour the gelatin over it. Chill about 2 1/2 hours, or until gelatin is firm. Dip bottom of cake pan in hot water just long enough to loosen gelatin around sides of pan. Then slide cake from pan.

Frost with whipped cream. Then place second sponge layer on top. Frost top and sides of cake with whipped cream. Garnish with halved green maraschino cherries to simulate the shape of a shamrock.
