

CHILDREN'S PICTURES TO BE TAKEN FREE AND PUBLISHED IN THE G-T

It is an undisputed fact that the responsibilities of tomorrow's world, the nation and community will rest upon the shoulders of the children of today. Since this is true, the publishers of the Gazette-Times would like to give readers a good look at these future "world builders."

The only way this can be done is by publishing pictures of them in a feature series. To assure the latest and best reproduction pictures they must be of uniform size and quality.

An expert children's photographer with all the necessary equipment for this specialized work, will be here Thursday, July 24. Pictures will be taken at the Heppner Hotel and will be open from 10 am to 6 pm.

No Charge To Parents

There is no charge to the parents. There are absolutely no strings to this invitation. It is bonafide in every sense of the word. Parents do not have to be subscribers, nor even readers of this newspaper to take advantage of this feature. Neither are they obligated to purchase pictures after they are taken. Those who want some additional prints may obtain a limited number by arrangement with the studio representative when they select the pose they want printed in the paper. It is entirely up to them.

The More Pictures The Better

The Gazette-Times simply wants pictures of all the youngsters and the more, the better. So the mothers and fathers of the community in which this paper circulates should remember the date, July 24 at the Heppner Hotel and not fail to bring their children to the photographer.

You will be mighty glad, afterwards you did, and very sorry if you do not permit your children to participate in this event. The kiddies will have much fun and both mother and dad and the youngsters, too, will be very proud to see their pictures in print later.

Farm Safety Week Slated July 20-26

Prevention of farm and home accidents which kill about 100 farm residents in Oregon each year will be stressed during national Farm Safety Week, July 20 to 26.

The governor's committee on farm safety, representing public and private agencies and dedicated to make life safer in Oregon, points out that farming takes more deaths from accidents than any other major industry. Home accidents take an even worse toll. Nearly 4,600 persons are injured in local home accidents each year.

Carelessness in use of machinery, drownings, misuse of firearms, falls, electric currents, animals, insects and burns are cited as main accident causes.

The governor's committee is appealing to local professional organizations, such as vocational agriculture departments, the soil conservation service, county extension agents, state forestry, welfare, and agriculture departments to adopt year-around safety programs.

William C Smith, director of farm programs, KOAC, Oregon State college, is chairman of local farm safety week observances.

PARENTS OF SON

Mr and Mrs Ted Schaffeld of Ontario, Oregon are the parents of a boy born July 4. He has been named Richard Lee. Mrs Floyd Adams of Heppner is grandmother.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

The proposed new Federal budget is not destined for easy sailing through Congress. Totalling $73.9 billion, it is by far the largest peacetime budget ever asked by Congress.

And there are some hard facts developing out of consideration of this budget.

One of the most inescapable and unpalatable parts of the whole budget is the fact that $8 billion of this must be used to pay the interest on the national debt.

In other words, almost 11 cents out of every tax dollar collected must be used to pay on interest on the debt.

This is a huge sum. Yet, faced with the necessity of paying out $8 billion for interest, the budget requests almost another $4 billion to be thrown away in form of give aways. Thus, there is combined to pay off on past dead horses, and to give-away on present dead horses almost 17% of entire federal budget.

Or looking at it another way. Huge as the current budget request is, it just about equals what the U. S. has thrown away in foreign give-aways and other global WPA schemes in the past few years.

In fact, government appears to be getting so confused over this tax matter, that it is now even considering taxing itself.

A major recommendation was that a tax of 3.5 cents per gallon be placed on jet fuels. While it is true that in a short while, there will be some commercial jet airliners in operation, their fuel consumption will be but a drop in the bucket compared to the necessary military use of jet fuels.

Thus, if this proposed new tax were to bring in any appreciable new revenue, it would be collected on fuel used to protect the United States. This would be carrying the taxing situation to the nth degree of ludicrousness.

It was rather a shock to Washington that in a recent issue of a popular national magazine, General Douglas MacArthur sharply assailed the present taxing policies in the U. S. Many had long assumed that military men are not overly concerned with the weight of taxes.

Yet the nation's outstanding military leader, and hailed by many foreign experts as the greatest military expert of the age, states flatly that there seems to be no restraint on the lust for taxes and recalls how Lenin, propagator of Russian communism, predicted in the 1920's the United States would eventually spend itself into bankruptcy.

General MacArthur also recommends the sure cure to excessive governmental spending which between federal and local is now taking one-third of the national income. That cure is to shut off the sources of taxes, thus forcing economy on government.

And the General also states that it has been charged, without any challenge, that this year the government of the United States proposes to spend more than all the rest of the governments in the world combined will spend.

In this connection it is not to be forgotten in Korea General MacArthur ordered "Operation Meat Axe" which meant destroy the enemy at every occasion. What apparently is needed now is the same type of operation on non-essential government spending before all independent enterprise in America is throttled.

Hay Wafers for Cows Discussed in Booklet

New "hay wafers" for dairy cows are compared with baled and pelleted hay in a publication just issued by Oregon State college agricultural experiment station.

Research by I R Jones, OSC dairy scientist, and Benjamin F Magill, dairy technologist, is reported in detail in the illustrated 10-page booklet.

Chopped alfalfa compressed into a wafer combines the advantages of easy-to-handle pelleted hay and the feed value of high quality loose or baled hay, the researcher explains.

Title of the booklet is "Baled, Wafered, and Pelleted Hay." Copies may be obtained from county extension agents or the Oregon State college bulletin clerk, Corvallis.

REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE MEETS

The Morrow County Republican Central Committee met Tuesday evening and plans were discussed for a dinner meeting to be held in the early fall.

The next meeting was set for Tuesday evening, August 12 and it is hoped all interested will try to attend.

VISIT IN SEATTLE

E E Gonty and two boys went to Seattle, July 4 to spend the weekend with his son, Raymond and family, to get acquainted with a new grandson, Russell Edward, and to get Mrs Gonty who had gone to Seattle a week earlier to be with the family. They returned home by way of Castle Rock, Wn where they visited Mr and Mrs O M Yeager, former Heppner residents and Longview to visit Mrs Gonty's brother, C J Hemrich who is a Safeway meat department manager there.

Mr and Mrs Yeager sent best wishes to friends here.

VISITING FROM ALASKA

Mr and Mrs Charles Stout Jr, and daughter Kristie of Ketchikan, Alaska are visiting this week at the home of her parents, Mr and Mrs Glen Irby of Heppner, and his parents, Mr and Mrs Charles Stout Sr of Enterprise.

VISITING RELATIVES

Mr and Mrs A H Nelson and granddaughter, Janet Slonecker of Oak Grove visited the past week with Norman and Alfred Nelson at the Nelson ranch near Lexington.

Mr Nelson started farming in this district about 50 years ago and has noted many changes in farming operations. He thinks weed spraying and fertilizing has added much to the yield per acre.

Visitors this week at the home of Mr and Mrs Frank Hamlin were Mr and Mrs John Walling and daughter and Miss Chesky all of St Paul, Minn. They were on their way for a vacation in Hawaii.
