Over The Tee Cup

By Jackie Labhart.

I understand that it's a woman's prerogative to change her mind; well the women of Willow Creek Country Club are certainly no exception. Two weeks ago I was told to inform the lady golfers there would be no more ladies day competition until after school, and now I am told they had a ladies day Tuesday.

I was unable to play as this "lady" spent her "day" on top of the roof painting a house, but eight women did brave the morning sun and were well rewarded, as all eight received a new golf ball. The following were their awards; Dee Gribble, most 3's on her score card; Ruth Van-Winkle, 4's; Marie McQuarrie, 5's; Hester Creswick, 6's; Coramae Ferguson, 7's; and Bev Gunderson, 8's. Bonnie Mattoon made the least number of putts (13) and Dee shot low gross of 42. Arolene Laird also played and was given a new ball too. (For just being there I guess.)

I have been unable to play any golf during the past two weeks, but have been keeping in shape by swinging a paint brush with a good follow through. (to the next board that is). But the tea leaves have been obscured by tree leaves and house eaves, so haven't seen any hilarious golf happenings or heard any link lore. Therefore the tea cup will be rather flat this week.

ANNOUNCEMENTS: There will be a two-ball foursome this Sunday with tee off time scheduled for 4:00 p m. There will be prizes for the winning couples so be sure to attend. Also ladies day's will continue—starting time will be between 6:30 and 7:00 am. Well back to the old paint brush . . .

weak stems, or foliage too open or sparse. Wilting or soft petals and stems that have not been disbudbed are also judged as faults, as are weather stains, insect and disease injury, or conspicuous spray residue on the foliage.

SWEET PEAS—The ribbons in this class go to large blooms of firm texture, on long, stiff stems with three or more blooms per stem. They should show good proportion and form, and above all, be fresh.

ZINNIAS should be well developed with center florets expanded. The blooms should be deep, the color brilliant clear, free from scorching or fading at ends of rays. Stems should be long and stiff. Common faults of Zinnias are shallow, flat blooms, muddy, dull colors scorching of older rays, centers insufficiently developed, and short stems.

of the right size according to type, with a regular outline and long straight stems. The blooms of double varieties should be deep with no disc florets showing. Common faults in marigolds are in irregular shape and unattractive color or color combination.

NASTURTIUMS— should be large, have clear colors, distinct and harmonious markings and shading, attractive form and long stems.

PANSIES—Blue-ribbon pansies will have a circular outline, good size, substance, overlapping petals, well-defined "eye", purity and richness in the ground color, pleasing markings and shading and long stems.

PETUNIAS—Top-flight petunias are large according to type, have a bright clear color, velvety texture, and clear and harmonizing markings and shadings. They should be vigorous, with good stems and foliage.

ROSES are judged for their form, color, substance, stem and foliage, and size. Blooms should show perfection of form for their type, should have pure, rich, luminous colors, firm, crisp petals, clean, healthy foliage, long stems, large blooms for type and variety, with high centers in exhibition varieties. In general, roses should be at their most perfect phase of possible beauty. Avoid exhibiting roses at an improper stage of development, or if they have split centers, abnormal irregularities in petalage, weak, faded or dull colors.
