IN THE SADDLE ... With The Wranglers

By JOHN NEWMAN

The horse show is over for another year and it seemed better than the last—maybe it was just that I took more interest in it. It will do the same for you.

In the gaited pleasure class we had four entries (one last year). Bill and Kite Healy's Jet took the grand champ working horse while Bruce Lindsay took his baldface into reserve champion position. His willingness got him there for he never complains or switches a tail when asked for more.

There were lots of blue ribbons passed out, but in that sort of competition a red or even a white is something to be proud of. Then came the rodeo, and from where I sat it was a show well managed with no dead time. If the contestant wasn't on the ball he was passed up. Windy West and his helpers kept everyone informed whether a participant or spectator. I would say he was well worth his fee.

The last day was a dilly—that bucking stock of Ring and Hutzel can sure separate the men from the boys. Someone must have told them it was elimination day for few ever reached the grass. It could be someone who reached it the first day told the others the dirt was softer. Three bulls were ridden the first day but only one rider listened to the horn from the hurricane deck Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Glenger and two sons returned to their home in Junction City after visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Glenger.

Mrs. Sophia Leasy and Ruby Glenger returned home Wednesday evening after spending several days in Hermiston visiting relatives and friends. Mrs. Glenger attended the school lunch workshop in Pendleton on Monday, which she reports as very interesting and valuable to any school cafeteria cook.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Peterson and sons returned home Wednesday evening from Portland where they had been several days.

Miss Georgia Stubblefield and Bobbie Porter returned home Tuesday night after a two week's trip through California and Nevada, visiting relatives.

Glenn Williams and Elmer Matteson are busy this week putting new cement curbs in around the gym, play ground and school house. Maynard Hamilton and George Stirritt have the new lawn coming along pretty well out front of the buildings.

The Morrow county derby with 10 entries made the three-quarter mile run without a mishap but before the horses could be stopped four piled up. Christine, apparently from exhaustion, fell from her horse; Bill Healy riding to protect her from oncoming horses was upset with his horse rolling over him; one of Hutch's entries figured in it as did Morris McCarl but Bill was the only one requiring a stretcher on the way to the hospital. We hope he will soon be up and fit as ever.

Laura Lee Shank, Dianna Leathers and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Chan and daughter returned Thursday night from Portland where they had been for a church meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Ansil Martin, Mrs. Forrest Noland and two daughters and Mrs. Sam Scott and son were business callers in Long Creek Friday morning.

Edna Moore drove to Heppner Thursday morning. She was accompanied by her daughters Miss Jackie Moore and Mrs. Darlene Boyer and son Jimmie.
