ST PATRICK'S CHURCH SCENE OF DOUGHERTY-STEAGALL WEDDING

By DELPHA JONES

A bride of this week was Miss Patricia Steagall of Lexington, whose wedding to Jerry Dougherty, son of Mrs E C Dougherty and the late Mr Dougherty, was solemnized Saturday morning at St Patrick's Catholic church, with the nuptials being conducted by the Rev Father Endal of The Dalles.

Daughter of Mr and Mrs Wilbur Steagall, the bride was given in marriage by her father. The bride, lovely in a white lace gown with full skirt over taffeta, with long wrist length sleeves and sweetheart neckline, and white finger tip veil, approached the altar down the aisle adorned with white satin wedding ribbon and pink dahlias. She carried a cascade bouquet of white Fiji dahlias with a center of a white orchid corsage.

The ring bearer was Gill Scribner of Heppner and flower girls were Karen Crowell and Donna Hatfield who wore identical white nylon dresses and carried baskets of blossoms. Altar boys were John and Mike Koenig.

The matron of honor was Mrs Howard Crowell of Ione, sister of the bride and the bridesmaids were Barbara and Deanna Steagall, sisters of the bride and Mrs Robert Lovgren, sister of the groom. They wore white nylon ballarina length dresses over white and lavender taffeta slips, with picture hats and carried cascades of lavender Fiji dahlias tied with lavender ribbons.

Jim Hayes was best man and ushers were Stanley Cox, Bob and Bill Steagall and Robert Lovgren.

The double ring ceremony was performed in a setting of pink dahlias and white gladioli.

Miss Marguarite Glavey was organist and soloists were Mrs Don Hatfield and Bill Kenny.

The bride's mother wore a pink afternoon dress and the groom's mother wore a green afternoon dress and they both had corsages of cymbidium orchids.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the basement of the church, which was beautifully decorated with center pieces carrying out the same color scheme used in the church and with white candles in the candleabras.

The wedding cake was three tiered with pink rosebuds and silver leaves and the traditional bride and groom on the top. Around the cake was a frame of large white dahlias.

After the bride and groom cut the first piece of cake, Mrs Sam Crawford of Ione cut and Mrs John Dougherty of Connell, Wash and Mrs Scribner of Heppner presided at the punch bowl and Mrs Emma Breshears poured.

All tables were beautiful with center pieces of pink dahlias and white gladioli.

Karen Olsen of Pasco was in charge of the guest book and in charge of the gifts were Beverly Steagall and Maureen Groves. The groom's cake was passed by Chris Lovgren and Russell Kilkenny.

For going away, the bride chose a beige sheath dress with brown accessories and wore a white orchid corsage.

After a trip to Yellowstone National Park, the young couple will make their home in Sand

Hollow where the groom is farming.

The groom is a graduate of Heppner high school, class of 1957, and played in the East-West Shrine football game. The bride is a 1958 graduate of Lexington high school and was Queen of the Morrow county fair and rodeo this year.

One of the outstanding happenings of the day was receiving a congratulatory telegram from the Rev Patrick Gaire, who is visiting in Ireland.

Former Heppner Girl Married At Ukiah

By DELPHA JONES

The home of Mr and Mrs Earl Kendall of Ukiah was the scene of the wedding on Friday of their daughter, Lucille to Kenneth Gilliland of Ukiah.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev Egly of the Presbyterian church of Pilot Rock.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a white lace over satin dress with satin bodice and lace bolero, and wore a pink rose corsage.

Charlene Jones of Lexington was pianist playing "Whither Thou Goest" and "Give Us This Day" and the wedding march.

The reception was held at the home of the Kendalls and the cake made by Mrs Kendall was a lovely three tiered creation and carried the usual bride and groom top. The rooms were lovely with pink and white snaps and pink and white dahlias.

Connie Gilliland, sister of the groom, was in charge of the guest book, and the bride and groom opened their gifts during the reception.

Out of town guests were Mr and Mrs Marion Kendall of Ontario, Mrs Cecil Jones and daughter, Charlene of Lexington and Janet Kendall, sister of the bride from Dallas, Ore.

The brides mother wore a pink afternoon dress with white dahlias corsage and the groom's mother wore a brown afternoon dress with pink dahlias.

The groom is the son of Mr and Mrs Max Gilliland of Ukiah. After a short wedding trip to Portland, the young couple will be at home in Ukiah where the groom is employed.

The Kendall family will be remembered in both Lexington and Heppner where they lived for several years and Mr Kendall was employed by the state highway department.

"All Delays Are Dangerous In War"

By Phil Blakney

When an invading germ or virus attacks your body a war begins. If your body senses that it is losing, it asks for help. You may become unusually tired, have persistent pains or other troublesome symptoms.

Any delay can make the battle hard to win. Home remedies, that only treat symptoms, may mask the real cause and permit the illness to gain a strong hold. The best way to win your war against sickness is to go to your physician at the first sign of trouble. Let him diagnose the cause and prescribe the proper treatment.
