Upon completion of the first space ship, we women of Willow Creek Country Club would be well qualified to man this vehicle for the most of us played golf Tuesday like we were out of this world anyway. We just couldn't seem to act like earthlings and "keep our feet on the ground"; plus the fact our heads were constantly raised toward the unknown. (Which every good golfer knows is no place for one's head to be.) All I can say at this point is, "take us to your leader."

Those attempting to break the "par barrier" were Coramae Ferguson, Lucille Peck, Cathy Imus, Cathy Collins, Maxine Gray, Sue Valentine, Marie McQuarrie, Shirley Loyd, Cork Norene, Meg Murray, Kay Robinson, Hester Creswick, Bonnie Mattoon, Donna McCurdy, Dee Gribble and Delores McDowell. Sue and Delores tied for low gross of 46, and Delores also carded the lowest net score (26). I won a new golf ball for the fewest number of putts for the nine holes. (12)

During lunch at the Wishing Well, a business meeting was held. (ONLY glad Robert, of the Rules of Order wasn't around, for our business meetings only differ from our usual ladies day jabber by the fact that someone yells QUIET!, and for a few moments there is a silence in which one person can speak by herself.) During these few seconds of stillness we managed to elect new officers for the coming year. Hazel Mahoney was elected president; Shirley Loyd, vice president; and Cathy Collins was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

LADIES DAY LAMENTS: Kay constantly in a cataclysm of catastrophes. . . (she even blazed a trail around the course by leaving at least one "temper" mark on each fairway) . . . Meg late for work because everyone seemed to be having troubles. . . Bonnie deciding she should have gone hunting, for at least she could shoot a gun . . . Coramae having putting troubles. . . Lucille borrowing Hester's ball retriever (it's a regular life saver when it comes to water).

bird season; golfing just didn't seem to be "in season" for that day. But nine seasoned golfers did show up to make enough players for threesomes. Dee Gribble, Al Mattoon and Clint McQuarrie were one gay group; Harlan McCurdy, Bonnie Mattoon and Lowell Gribble another peppy bunch; and Marie McQuarrie, Ned Sweek and Jack Loyd made up the final threesome.

Overheard that Saturday, "Grib" was having so much trouble with the wind lifting his golf ball that on No 7 tee he decided to drive off with his

Lexington News

A group of Lexingtonites met last week and decided to sponsor a community "get-together" at the Lexington IOOF hall in honor of the Lexington Jackrabbits and their coach, Bob Matthews. A committee to plan the evening met at the Bob Davidson home on Sunday. Those present were Jerry Doherty, Lucille Mathews, Lorine Ledbetter, Doris Parsons, Gladys VanWinkle, Eileen Padberg, Gae Papineau and Delpha Jones. They decided to sponsor a potluck dinner at 6 P M on Friday evening and a short program to which the community and all interested are cordially invited to attend. Let's all come to this "get-together" and show the Lex High boys we're behind them and visit with our friends and neighbors.

Mr and Mrs Carl Marquardt were Portland visitors one day last week.

Mrs Norma Marquardt and Mrs Trina Parker returned to their homes on Wednesday after several weeks in Portland. Mrs Parker reports her sister, Miss Barnett is improving satisfactorily from surgery on a broken hip at Emanuel hospital in Portland.
