By ESTHER KIRKIS

This is Farm-City Week. This is the fourth year that a week has been designated to help promote better understanding between rural and urban people. The Kiwanis International and the U S Department of Agriculture cooperated in getting this venture started.

In Morrow county both the Soroptimists and the chamber of commerce organizations have cooperated in observing this week. Gene Lear of the administrative staff of Oregon State college appeared before the Soroptimist women on Thursday, November 20, at their luncheon meeting. E R Jackman, veteran range specialist of Oregon State college was the featured speaker of the annual dinner held at the Heppner American Legion hall on Monday evening, November 24. This banquet was sponsored by the chamber of commerce of Heppner.

Both Mr Lear and Mr Jackman brought out the fact that farming is Oregon's second largest industry, only topped by lumbering. Fewer farmers today are able to support more people, thus releasing more potential workers to produce manufactured goods and services. USDA has done much in research to provide new products and new uses to help farmers, producers, distributors, and consumers of farm products alike to maintain a steady flow of food and fiber from farm to home in the best possible condition and at the lowest cost.

All in all, it's pretty hard to draw the line where farming ends and city life begins. Our time has shown a great integration.

I was happy to attend the Irigon P-TA meeting on Monday evening where I was given the opportunity to present the 4-H pins and awards to the 4-H club members in the community. I also informed the parents of the many and varied 4-H projects available and urged them to look into the potential of what 4-H can mean in their child's growth.

4-H leaders in the Irigon area who will be leading clubs this year include Mrs Lloyd Franke,

THIRTY YEARS AGO

From the files of the Gazette-Times
November 29, 1928

Twenty years ago this Thanksgiving, M L Case and family came to Heppner, starting in the furniture business here along with W O Dix.

Mr and Mrs Alva Jones and Mr and Mrs W V Crawford entertained at a charming dinner party at the Jones home Monday evening.

Lawrence Palmer, farmer residing near Lexington, was a Monday visitor in Heppner.

Gloria Swanson in "Sadie Thompson" Star Theater Sunday and Monday.

Mr and Mrs William Copenhaver were visitors in the city on Friday from their farm home northeast of Lexington.

The W W Smead home will be the scene of a family reunion this Thanksgiving.

O C Wageman, wheatgrower residing just north of Heppner, was attending to business matters in this city on Saturday.

When Governor-elect Mark Hatfield set the high mark for a majority vote over an opposing gubernatorial candidate in Oregon, the pattern also was made for what long observers of the political adagio are saying will be the most enlivening administration since the days of nation-disturbing Sylvester Pennoyer and Oswald West.

Mrs Roy Davis, Mrs M E Hadwick, Miss Sandra Davis, Mrs F J Murtishaw, Mrs Minnie Skiles, Mrs H H Schmunk, Pat Schaad, and Miss Wanda Huwe.

On beautiful, balmy, Thursday I went over to Boardman and assisted Mrs Earl McQuaw in re-organizing the "Needle and Thread" club of Boardman. Officers chosen were: Dorothy Rash, president; Anna Mae McQuaw, vice president; Brenda Billings, secretary; Patti Partlow, news reporter; and Sandra Thorpe, song leader.

The 13 girls of the club include first, second, and third year sewing projects.

Chloe McQuaw will be the club's junior leader.

I will be spending Thanksgiving with North Dakota friends in Florence, Oregon. They tell me to bring my raincoat and rubbers. Am I "Teched" in leaving this lovely weather of Eastern Oregon? Happy Thanksgiving!

Early in the first weeks following the landslide election, spot news events appeared and on end keeping him on the front page and in the crossfire of liberal and conservative Republicans. Here are a few of the principal activations:

THIS IS THE ONE FOR WAGONS! 1959 CHEVY

Chevrolet's five stunning new station wagons for '59 are shaped to the new American taste with fresh, fine Slimline design. And they're beautifully practical—with roomier, quieter Bodies by Fisher, an even smoother ride, new ease of handling!

Wagons were never more beautiful or dutiful. From low-set headlights to wing-shaped tailgate, these '59 Chevys are as sweet looking as anything on wheels. They're just about the handiest things on wheels, too—from their overhead-curving windshield to their longer, wider load platform. Besides additional cargo space, you also get added seating room (4 inches more in front, over 3 inches in back). And you'll find such other practical advantages as new easy-ratio steering, Safety Plate Glass all around, bigger, safer brakes, smoother-than-ever Full Coil suspension and a roll-down rear window (electrically operated as standard equipment on the 9-passenger Kingswood).
