

Former Boardman Resident Passes

By MARY LEE MARLOW

Mr and Mrs Cecil Hamilton were called to Bellingham, Wash. last Friday by the death of Hamilton's uncle, Lewis Hamilton, 65, former resident here for 15 years. Cause of death was not learned here, but he had been in good health until Friday. A birthday party had been held for him New Year's Day by relatives. He was born Jan 1, 1894 in Sumas, Wash. one of 16 children of Edwin and Marjorie Hamilton. He lived in Bellingham, moving to Boardman the first time in 1923. After living here for a time he returned to Bellingham, and came back to Boardman about 1940 where he farmed in the west. He sold his farm in 1955 and moved back to Bellingham.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs Louise Crockett of Bellingham, and Mrs Charles Smith of Yelm, Wash, and the following brothers and sisters: Dick Hamilton of Los Angeles, Calif, Fred of Winlock, Wash, Guy, Ben and Ed Hamilton, Mrs Annabell Barr, Mrs Ivy Cook, Mrs Nora Johnston and Mrs Esther McKinnon, all of Bellingham, and Mrs Bethel Holtzmeier of Blaine, Wash. He is also survived by four grandchildren.

Time of funeral has not been learned, but services were to be in Bellingham.

Mrs Larry Thorpe of Hermiston and Lorelei Hamilton accompanied the Hamilton's to Bellingham.

Mr and Mrs Nathan Thorpe, Mr and Mrs Clyde Tannehill, Mr and Mrs Guy Ferguson, Mrs Claud Coats, Mrs Florence Root and Mrs Glen Carpenter all attended Pomona grange at Ione Saturday.

Richard Waymire, high school coach, and Marion Morlan took a group of boys to Corvallis last week to see the Far West Classic basketball games. In the group were Larry West, Douglas Shattuck, Jim Miller, Bill Getz, Keith Gronquist, Robert Obermeier, Richard Watts and Johnnie Partlow.

Chats With Your Home Agent

By ESTHER KIRMIS

Hello there! It's good to be back to Morrow county after being away for a month in my parental home in North Dakota, recovering from a fractured jaw. I'm happy to say I'm feeling fine and chewing again.

Nothing warmed my heart more than all the "get-well" wishes and the Christmas cards I received from all the good people of Morrow county. It did wonders for my morale!

As I look through the calendar for the month of January, I can see we're going to have plenty of activity.

This Wednesday evening is the annual 4-H leaders banquet sponsored by the Pacific Power and Light Company, Cecil Root of the Pacific Power and Light Company and Betty J Sedgwick and Gordon Hood, state extension agents will extend greetings. Pins and awards will be presented to the 4-H leaders and junior leaders by Elmer Llerman of the U S National Bank, The Dalles. The main feature of the evening will be relating of the experiences of the Tom Wilson's who have just returned from a three month European tour.

"The 4-H Story" will be presented to the Heppner P-TA on the evening of January 14th at Penny and Terry of LaGrande, and her brother-in-law, Mr and Mrs Wyatt Shellman of The Dalles.

Snow started falling here Sunday evening and continued most of the night, leaving about 3 inches on the ground Monday. Temperatures were somewhat warmer Sunday night after the below zero readings of Friday and Saturday night. Coldest temperature was five below Sunday morning. Minimum Monday morning was 10 above. Maximum was 25 above. The sun shone briefly Monday afternoon.

(From Last Week)

The Christmas program presented by the Community church is as follows: "Joy To The World" by everyone; Christmas story from Mathew by Merrill E Shaw, with organ accompaniment by Mrs Shaw, and prayer; piano solo, "O Holy Night" by Patty Miller; "A Welcome For The Baby", by beginners class; song "Away In A Manger" by nursery and beginners; trombone solo, Christmas melody by Martin Shattuck; "A Merry Christmas" by junior class; songs, "O Little Town of Bethlehem" and "There's a Song In The Air" by the high school group; "Lamps Of Promise", intermediate class; trumpet solo, Douglas Shattuck. Song "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing", and closing prayer. There were treats for everyone.

Jerry Peck, Ivan Kress and Michael Cassidy are spending the holidays at their homes here from OTI at Klamath Falls.

Mr and Mrs Arthur Allen and Roy Rordell spent three days last week at the home of Mr and Mrs Clayton Allen in Sunnyside, Wash.

the multi-purpose room at the Heppner school. County agent, Nels Anderson and myself along with 25, 4-H members and leaders will explain the 4-H philosophy and program to interested parents. The 25, 4-H projects available to Morrow county youngsters will be illustrated by mobiles created by Mrs Al Bunch.

The state 4-H leaders conference is scheduled at Oregon State College for January 21-23. It is hoped that a car full of Morrow county leaders will be able to attend.

Frances Barnick, Oregon Wheat League demonstrator, will be in the county on January 27th, to present the project training lesson on "The Use of Oregon Wheat Products." This should be an interesting meeting as the use of our wheat is very vital to all our "pocketbooks."

Highlight of the month will be the two "seafoods" demonstrations to be held January 28 in Boardman and January 29 in Heppner. These demonstrations are sponsored by the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries of Seattle.

Mrs Helen Ruth Groves will be the home economist presenting the demonstration and Peter Formuzis will be the marketing specialist present to discuss the marketing of fish.

Seven practical and economical recipes will be prepared, cooked and proper garnishing will be shown. Recipes include: (1) baked stuffed fillets or steaks with sweet pickle stuffing. (2) fillets baked in Spanish sauce (3) oven fried fillets with tartar sauce (4) shrimp kabobs (5) tuna waldorf salad (6) flaked fish cocktail (7) clam and cheese dip.

These meetings will begin at 1:00 P M at the Boardman Grange hall on January 28th and at the fair pavilion in Heppner on January 29th.

All interested people are urged to attend these demonstrations. Watch for further news stories as the time draws near. This will truly be an unusual demonstration in our "Beef" country.

IONE LIVESTOCK CLUB

Our second livestock meeting was held at the Community church basement, December 20. Two new members have joined. They are John and Pat McElligott. In all, five members were present.

Mr Anderson talked about a new by law rule. He also showed some slides. They were about how to tend to sows when they are farrowing.

Our next meeting will be January 18 at 2:30 at Townsend's home.

Cherilyn Smouse, reporter

BUTTER CREEK JUNCTION CLUB

Sandy Rhea and Karla Luciani gave a demonstration on "safety rules in the home." The members all voted to get the 4-H sweaters with the 4-H emblem on the lapel.

All the members were present and enjoyed a potluck dinner before the meeting. Mitchell Ashbeck led in games that were enjoyed by all. At the next meeting, Billy Doherty will demonstrate the rope halter.

Sunday, Jan 25, at 2:30 at the Pine City school house is the next meeting. It is potluck for the members and their families.

LEXINGTON

Mr and Mrs Ken Marshall were Bend visitors during the New Year's holidays.

Earl Miller of LaGrande was a Lex visitor a couple of days last week.

Among those attending New Year's dinner at the Archie Padberg home in Heppner were, Mr and Mrs Bill Nichols and family.

William J Hughes

William Jeremiah Hughes, 73, died Dec 30 at St Anthony's hospital in Pendleton. He was born April 25, 1885 on the Hughes ranch north of Heppner, the son of John and Mary Hughes, Morrow county pioneers.

He learned the leather working trade at an early age and worked at it for more than 50 years. He was an employee at Hamley's in Pendleton where he had been for 37 years. He operated his own saddle and harness shop in Prineville from 1914 to 1921.

He was married to Naomi Love in 1914 and they had two children, Donald W, who is with the Alaska territorial police, and Dulcinea, who is living at home.

He is survived by his wife and two children; two brothers, three sisters and several nieces and nephews.

Burial was in Olney cemetery in Pendleton, January 2.
