

Colorful Fashion Show Presented by Pattern Expert

Vivid eye-appealing colors and empire waistlines were the predominate features of the costumes shown at the Simplicity Pattern fashion show held at the multi-purpose room of the Heppner school on Monday evening, April 13, according to Miss Esther Kirmis, Morrow county extension agent.

An appreciative audience watched 18 Morrow county 4-H club girls model this delightful collection of clothes in the most vivid spring colors and latest fashions for teens and sub-teens.

Miss Nadine Thomson, Simplicity Pattern Company's young fashion 4-H club stylist, has been traveling all over the United States since January with this "Fashions Out of This World for the 4-H Modern Miss" style show. During her Oregon visits she is accompanied by Miss Fern Matte of the state 4-H club office, Corvallis.

The Simplicity wardrobe modeled consisted of four styles classified as "Red, white and blue rockets" featuring slim skirts in red or blue with nautical overblouses or trim. One navy linen sheath proved its versatility in several accessory changes with an empire belt, a contrasting collar, and a wide crush belt.

Another group entitled, "Launched in checks and stripes" featured a gay yellow checked wool suit with a yellow linen overblouse, a subtle costume in a high-waisted yellow and orange floral strip with a cropped jacket of orange cotton; a black and white check fashion in a slim skirt and sleeveless jacket with white overblouse, and a striped blouse one jacket that topped sunny yellow shorts and a wrap around orange skirt, (a mix and match wardrobe).

The "Cosmic Silhouettes" group consisted of a bright pink hopsacking jumper with a high rising waist and a striped blouse, a flattering full-skirted 4-H club shirt-dress, a white tunic overblouse over a slim black skirt, an empire-banded short overblouse with a red skirt, and a double breasted trapeze costume in bright green.

The "Planet Prints" were made from specially woven fabrics. A tapestry orlon and wool coat coordinated with a beige cotton dress and matching linen was especially attractive in this group. Other costumes were a classic shirt-dress in yellow printed cotton which featured a double contour belt to show off lifted waistline, a pink and orange splash print of printed cotton with ribbon sash at the high waist, and a blue and green floral printed cotton satin bubble dress with wide empire band and bow trim at the waistline.

The solo feature in the "Evening Star" group was a waltz evening frock in white moire with dotted white nylon tulle overskirt. A brilliant pink satin sash encircled the waist with a huge bow in the back.

It was felt that many 4-H members were truly inspired to you bring your child. The children will be fed at the Masonic hall at noon. If you wish child care will you also call me before April 25?

I presented the topic, "What's New in Fashions for Spring" to the Heppner Mother's Club on Monday evening, April 6, at the home of Mrs Grace Schmidt. The Academy Awards on TV gave the president and myself some stiff competition as, of course, everyone was interested in who won the "Oscars."

We also had some stiff competition for our county White House conference meeting last Tuesday night. The hearing on the school budget packed the court room, but we held forth with a few people in the jury room long enough to make a few plans. Questionnaires have been sent out to all organizations in the county asking them for recommendations their group would make to better the circumstances and prospects of our Morrow county children and youth. These questionnaires are to be returned to Mrs E M Baker, county White House core committee chairman, by May 15th. Those recommendations will be submitted to Governor Hatfield and sent on to Washington, D C as basis for the White House conference to be held in March 1960.

I was in Irrigon on Thursday visiting the "Cookies" 4-H club. Under the direction of their leader, Mrs H H Schmunk, and Ann Schmeder, junior leader, the girls demonstrated correct measuring technique, how to make cocoa, how to make cookies, and how to set a table. Girls that participated included Elsie Collins, Wanda Davis, Paula Williams, and Ann Schmeder.

I especially enjoyed the home-made ice cream Mrs Schmunk served. I don't know how long it's been since I tasted home made ice cream!
