NITROGEN is essential for maximum yields from cash crops

Next to moisture, nitrogen is the most important factor influencing crop yields. Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia is 82% nitrogen, the most concentrated form of nitrogen fertilizer available. It encourages development of longer, stronger root systems that can make better use of essential moisture.

Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia can be applied by injection or by metering into irrigation water. Plan now to get higher yields and bigger profits from all your cash crops by applying Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia.
