MARRIED FIFTY YEARS—Mr and Mrs Royal H Rands of Boardman who recently celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. (Lyons Studio)

Boardman Couple Feted on Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary

By MARY LEE MARLOW
About two hundred guests attended the open house honoring Mr and Mrs Royal H Rands, pioneer residents of Boardman, on their golden wedding anniversary recently at the Greenfield Grange hall.

The couple was married May 10, 1909 in Pendleton. They came to Boardman in 1915, and after farming here for some years, they were in state and federal government work for 15 years, living at Culver. They returned to Boardman five years ago, and now have their home on the river bank here.

They have three living children, R B Rands of Boardman, Mrs Robert Imperiale of Cloverdale, California, and Vaughn Keyes, Portland, and ten grandchildren.

In charge of the reception were Mrs Nate Macomber, Mrs Earl Briggs, Mrs Russell Miller, Mrs Nathan Thorpe, Mrs Glen Carpenter, Mrs Charles Anderegg, Mrs Walter Wyss, Mrs Ray Brown and Mrs Margaret Klitz.

The lace covered reception table was centered with an arrangement of gold Iris and gold candles. The anniversary cake, made and decorated by Mrs Edward Skoubo, was topped with the numeral 50 and a bridal couple, with the bride's dress in gold. The cake was on a table covered with a crocheted lace cloth made by Mrs Nate Macomber.

Pouring coffee was Mrs Clara Worden, Portland, sister of Mr Rands, and Eva D Caron, Milton-Freewater, niece of Mrs Rands, served the punch. Serving the cake were Mrs Perry Brown of Brentwood, California and Mrs Nine Cooley of Hood River. Nancy Rands, Boardman, and Jackie Phelps, Brentwood, California, granddaughters, were at the gift table. Barbara Anderegg was in charge of the guest book.

Joe Tatone, city mayor, gave the address of welcome, and a gift was presented to the couple by the community.

A mock wedding was staged by small folks with Dick Skoubo as the minister, David Skoubo as groom, Teresa Thorpe as the bride, Bobbie Skoubo as best man, Karen Gronquist and Linda Tatone as bridesmaids, Randy Stewart as father of the bride, Jody Tatone as ring-bearer, and Diane Black as flower girl.

Included in the guests from out of town were Mr and Mrs Robert Imperiale and children Robin, Rebecca and Randy of Cloverdale, California, Mrs Mary Lambert of Fairfield, California, Mrs Clara Worden, Mr and Mrs
