

Over The Tee Cup

By Jackie Labhart

Despite this wet and windy weather we have been having, the spirit of the Heppner golfers has not been dampened nor blown away. I guess the lure of the links is still more powerful than the weather.

I overheard the Willow Creek Country Club had quite a representation in the Elks golf tournament at Klamath Falls, but never did hear how they placed. Those entered were John Williams, Lowell Gribble, Harlan McCurdy and Del Jordan for the men; while the women were represented by Vivian Williams, Dee Gribble, Bonnie Mattoon and Donna McCurdy. (Heard Marge and LeRoy Gardner walked around with them for all 18 holes... could be the Gardner's were along to replant the divots.)

Sunday, Bill and I took Shirley and Bill Blake down to the course for their first game of golf; and they did quite well for their "maiden voyage." (And believe me on some fairways we needed a ship to get across the water.) Among the many golfers on the course that day were, the Conley Lanham, the Phil Mahoney, the Jack Everleys, Jim and Tom Driscoll, the Clint McQuarries, the Ed Shaffitz, the Harry O'Donnell's, Lorena Jones, Alma Green, Bob Jones, Don McClure of Winston Oregon, the Eddie Gundersons, and Oscar and Gerald Peterson.

Tuesday, the ladies from Kinzua literally blew into our town for our ladies day competition and the month of June "sang" her usual theme song... "With the Wind and the Rain in Your Hair". We had a scrumptious chicken dinner at the Wishing Well and cozily sat in the haven of the patio until the rain storm blew over. A field of 23 women entered the nine hole tournament and the Heppner gals playing were Bebe Munkers, Lucille Peck, Maxine Gray, Vivian Williams, Meg Murray, Gene Case, Ruth Van Winkle, Marie McQuarrie, Coramae Ferguson, Hester Creswick, Dee Gribble, Cork Norene, Hazel Mahoney, Shirley Loyd, Arolene Laird, Sally Cohn and myself. Following the nine holes we went to Marie's home for dessert and award presentations. Jolene Guinn had low gross score for Kinzua (54), Marie Hulett made the drive closest to the pin on No. 4, and I unconsciously shot low gross of 37 for Heppner.

OVERHEARD: that Harlan McCurdy decided to play the Dee Gribble brand of golf at Klamath Falls (whatever that is)... that Gerald Peterson is quite a golfer... that Dee's head has a strange attraction for golf clubs and golf balls... that Jack Everley (playing our course for the first time) was overdriving all the greens and still shot a 36... That's all the tee talk for this week, so until next tee time, good golfing.

Meat Carcasses For Food Require Producer's Tag

Oregon farmers are reminded that any meat food carcasses or parts of carcasses transported on the highways must be accompanied by a bona fide producer's tag. The state department of agriculture points out these tags are available from any of its livestock brand inspectors or officers throughout the state and also from county sheriffs.

State meat inspectors are running into untagged carcasses at business places and at locker plants.

The department says that both producer and possessor are liable
