Sunday was a day that began with rain, but ended up in sunshine—making our Karl Beach 4-H Picnic' up at Cutsforth park an enthusiastic success.

4-H leaders and parents began gathering at the 4-H camp site around 10:30 A M ready to pitch tents and scrub up the camp kitchen. But the rain stymied the action for an hour.

This worked out well for the Hope and Valby Lutheran congregations who were also up at Cutsforth park for their annual church festival. 4-H leaders invited the Lutherans to come under the roof of the 4-H building and hold their morning service. Benches were hastily set up, an altar improvised and Rev John Rydgren, Lutheran pastor, held his morning service.

Came noon—and also came the sun! So each group could go ahead with their own picnic plans.

I always marvel at the working enthusiasm of our 4-H leaders and parents in Morrow county. Miss Frances Harvey, Umatilla county extension agent who was visiting me on Sunday, also commented on this. There were about 50 families present. The men soon had the tents pitched and the cots and mattresses in place. The women scrubbed up all the pots and pans in the kitchen and then set out a festive "pot-luck" picnic meal that was a delight to the hungry youngsters and the tired parents.

The day was climaxed with a talk by Karl Beach, outstanding 4-H club member of Morrow county, who was chosen as one of Oregon's four delegates to the National Club Conference in Washington, D C in June.

Karl had an interesting story to tell. He showed slides of the sights the four delegates, and their chaperones, Mr and Mrs

Boardman Notes

Two groups of children have entered the swimming classes at the Hermiston pool last week. In the beginners group were Bobbie Skoubo, Jody and Linda Tatone, Cindy, Nancy and Andy Morlan, Karen Gronquist, Pam Kuhn, Pat and Jim Crouch and their cousin Dennis Van Etta of Sunnyside, Wash. In the older

John Schmid, Redmond, had seen on the way to Washington, D C. He also had slides of the dedication ceremony of the 4-H Club Foundation building in which President Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Benson took part.

A visit to Mount Vernon was also a highlight of the eventful week.

Sightseeing trips in Philadelphia and New York completed the foursome's homeward journey.

It is quite a rare coincidence that both boys of the Oregon delegation have received appointments in the military forces. Dean Anderson, Portland, left the group at Chicago to fly to Colorado Springs, Colorado to enroll in the Air Force Academy. Karl left for West Point on Sunday evening to enroll in the famous army academy.

Karl urged the young 4-H boys and girls present to stick with 4-H and keep the National Club Conference in mind as their final goal. He expressed thanks to his parents, Mr and Mrs Harold Beach; the 4-H leaders and county agents he had worked under and gave them credit for making possible all the 4-H honors that had come to him.

I think everyone there felt a surge of pride that Morrow county had a part in producing such a fine example of young manhood as our Karl Beach.

SHAGGY DOG Sunday, show starts at 2:30. Admission price is for ONE show only, all children must buy tickets.

group are Roger Zivney, Dennis Gronquist, Dick Skoubo, David Skoubo and Dorothy Rash. Mothers of the children are taking turns taking them to Hermiston. Mrs Elvin Ely took her daughter Eileen to Cannon Beach Bible Conference Monday where she will spend the next eight weeks. Mrs Frank Farmer and daughter Kathy accompanied them. They returned home Tuesday.

Mr and Mrs Don Downey and sons Wayne and Jerry, and Mrs Louise Earwood and daughter, Shirley attended the Condon Rodeo the 4th.

Mrs Frank Marlow visited at the home of her aunt, Mrs Ernest Zerba, in Walla Walla, Wash Friday and Saturday.

Weekend visitors at the home of Mr and Mrs Dewey West were Mrs West's parents, Mr and Mrs Sam Beeks, Arlington.
