

4-H FAIR HOME ECONOMICS ACTIVITIES ARE SCHEDULED

A merry round of style revue, demonstrations, judging contests, and exhibiting will be in store for Morrow county 4-H girls at the county fair when activities begin on Wednesday morning, August 26, at the Morrow county fair grounds, Heppner, according to Esther Kirmls, Morrow county extension agent.

All 4-H home economics activities will be held in the annex building of the fair pavilion. 4-H leaders will meet at the fair grounds on Tuesday, August 25, at 9:00 A M for a "work day" to clean the pavilion and arrange tables for exhibits, etc. All workers are asked to bring a sack lunch for noon. Coffee and punch will be furnished.

4-H exhibits in food, clothing, and home living will be accepted on Wednesday morning of the fair beginning at 8:00 A M. The judges will begin their task as soon as exhibits are in place. The judging contest in these same categories will begin at 1:00 P M for junior girls, under 15 years of age. The senior division of the judging contest will be held at 3:00 P M.

Thursday morning will be devoted to the girls enrolled in Teen Wise Clothing, Fun and Sun, and Clothing IV & V clothing projects; modeling their garments before the judges for style revue judging. A practice for the Thursday evening public style revue will be held at 11:00 A M that same morning. The public revue, scheduled for 8:00 P M in the dance pavilion, will be a comparison of centennial and modern day fashions.

Demonstrations by 4-H members are scheduled for Thursday afternoon, beginning at 1:00 P M. Registrations show there will be a greater number of demonstrations than in past years, according to the county agent's office.

The wool sewing, bread baking, and cake baking contests are scheduled for Friday morning of the fair beginning at 9:00 A M.

Friday is also "4-H Dinner"

4-H Club News

RHEA CREEK LIVESTOCK CLUB

The Rhea Creek Livestock club met at the home of Mr and Mrs Leonard Rill on August 2.

We talked about our project to go to the fair.

For our August meeting there were seven members present.

The guests were Archie Ball, Sr, Mrs Darrel Harris and Johnny, Mrs Paul Webb and Beckie, Frank Anderson, Mrs Harold Wright.

At the close of the meeting we had Kool Aid, cup cakes, ice cream for refreshments.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mr and Mrs Frank Anderson on September 6.

Kenneth Wright, reporter

Leaders and parents of 4-H members will serve dinner to the public that day, beginning at 12:00 noon. Funds raised at this dinner will go into the 4-H leaders fund to finance various 4-H undertakings.

Exhibits will remain on display for public inspection until 6:00 P M on Saturday so that everyone interested will have a chance to view the work of the county's 4-H boys and girls.

Blue ribbon winners at the county fair will be eligible to send their exhibits to the state fair at Salem, September 5-12.

Weather Radar, Storm Research Planned by OSC

OREGON STATE COLLEGE—"Case histories" of ocean storms that sweep across Oregon will be charted by Oregon State College meteorologists in coming months as part of long-range research on use of radar for mapping storm patterns and for forecasting and observing weather.

A $30,000 grant has been received from the U S Army Signal Corps Engineering Laboratories for 1960 work. In the past five years since meteorology research was started by OSC, grants totaling $150,000 have been received.

Dr Fred Decker, associate professor of physics, is leader of the meteorology research team.

The radar observations of the storm patterns coming into the Coast from the Pacific Ocean will be among the first made in this region, Decker said.

Portable radar equipment with a range of 250 miles will be used from sites atop peaks in the Coast Range to observe the pattern and characteristics of the storms as they move over the coastal region, the Willamette Valley, and into and across the Cascades.

Possibilities and techniques for forecasting path of the storm, storm intensity, time of precipitation, and duration of the storm will be studied. Working with Decker on the project will be Herbert Kershaw Jr., Wilfred Jensby, and Wendell M Cook, who will be on leave from the U S Weather Bureau at Salem to study at OSC and participate in the project this fall.

Great advances in weather observations and forecasts have come with radar, Decker noted. Radar is used now to map rainfall, detect hail and tornadoes, track severe storms, plot growth, and locate the freezing level. It is also playing a part in virtually every serious experiment in weather "control."

FHA Loans For Farm Refinancing Are Now Available

Loans for refinancing of secured operating debts are now available through the Farmers Home Administration.

These loans help farmers who are otherwise in a sound position but who are unable to meet their present credit obligations and need credit on more favorable terms and conditions than are currently available from other lenders. Operating loans are available for refinancing purposes to owner-operators of farms no larger than family size. Operating loans for refinancing purposes may also be made to part-time operators and operators of leased farms. The applicants must have adequate security and be carrying on sound farming operations.

To qualify as a part-time operator, an applicant must be an established farmer carrying on substantial farming operations and spending the major portion of his time farming. The applicant must have a dependable source of outside income. The purposes for which loans may be made include refinancing of debts secured by liens on livestock, farm equipment, and harvested feed. Under certain conditions loans also may be made for the payment of unsecured debts.

Loans will not be used to refinance any debt until it has been determined that the present creditor or other credit sources are not able to provide the applicant with adequate credit on terms that he could reasonably be expected to meet.

The applicant must be of legal age, be a citizen of the United States and have had farm experience sufficient to indicate reasonable prospects of conducting successful farming operations.

Operating loans are repayable from 1 to 7 years and carry an interest charge of 5 percent.

Like other Farmers Home Administration loans, the eligibility of the applicant is determined by the local county committee.

Further information may be obtained from the Farmers Home Administration, 105 S E Byers Avenue, Pendleton, on any Monday. Office hours are from 8:00 a m to 4:30 p m.

Forest Taxation Study Planned By Oregon State

OREGON STATE COLLEGE—Forest taxation and its effects upon the management of Oregon forests will be studied in a new Oregon State College school of forestry research project.

Forest economists at the college have outlined a broad research program to determine the effects of Oregon's property tax, yield tax, and severance tax on forestry operations.

Because of the scope of the project, it will be conducted over a period of several years.

First of the studies to be initiated will be an analysis of the property tax burden on forest owners in relation to other property holders. This phase will start this summer and may be completed within a year. Other phases of the project will be undertaken as funds are received.

Working on the project will be Robert F Keniston, Charles F Sutherland, Dwight S Jeffers, and Charles W Dane of the forestry school staff.

The greatest interest in forest taxation is shown by the number of forest tax bills introduced in the last legislature, the foresters noted. Facts developed from the research are expected to provide new and highly valuable information on forest taxation and management in the state.
