Lent brings emphasis on seafoods, eggs and cheese—Including cottage cheese. Any one of these offers good eating at low prices. For example, large and extra large grade A or AA eggs cost only 4 to 6 cents each. Why not brush up on your omelet technique. The trick is low heat and a sprinkle of patience. Serve lunch omelets with cheese or shrimp sauce. Or add cottage cheese to beaten eggs and cook together for a cottage cheese-egg scramble. Cottage cheese combined with shellfish can be served with a snappy sauce, or molded for a salad. Take advantage of special prices you are apt to see on canned freestone peaches—they're a "natural" with cottage cheese.

Bake, broil or fry bacon for the family—present price warrants its use. Spread toast with butter and mashed ripe avocado, top with crisp bacon strips—for a good sandwich change. Ham prices may rise for the Easter trade. If you're wanting a menu change and feel you can "splurge" a little, how about a leg of lamb to roast or beef ribs. Either will make your meal something special. Ground beef is very versatile and among the meats that give a lot for your money. A serving of pork, beef or lamb liver will cost 10 to 15 cents. A good nutrition way is liver once a week.

Fruits and vegetables: Because of weather, lettuce growers are having a hard time supplying top quality lettuce. It's a good time to use other crisp vegetables for salads: cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, onions, spinach, celery. More fresh asparagus keeps coming. Warm weather in the growing area will cause asparagus prices to lower. Fresh green peas are a new item. Shell a few to add to your green salad. Watch appetites respond!

Time to serve a rhubarb pie. The rosy color and delectable flavor of rhubarb can be enjoyed in pie, sauce, cobblers, puddings, gelatin salads, crisps and other baked dishes. Nutmeg, orange or lemon are delightful taste additions. Two pounds makes a 9-inch pie. Avacados, apples, grapefruit, oranges and bananas offer fresh fruit choices.

Canned and frozen goods offer a lot of good eating as usual. Watch for specials on frozen

4-H CLUB NEWS

HOOF AND HORN CLUB

The February meeting of the Hoof and Horn 4-H club was held Feb 14 in the annex building. Fifteen members were present.

Ronny Jones presided in the meeting. The roll call topic was on what you feed your 4-H animals.

We plan to go to the Pendleton Woolen Mills during school spring vacation. There was no further business.

We had a movie on judging animals. Marcel Jones, our leader, gave us pamphlets for judging the animals.

Kit Anderson led in a couple of games. They were on Valentine games and Valentine songs.

The visitors were Mrs Van Scholack and Jimmy and Mrs Jones and Marsha.

Refreshments were cocoa, cookies and cake served by Mrs Paul Warren and Mrs Drake, who were hosts for the meeting.

The next meeting will be held at the annex building, March 13 at 2 p. m. Refreshments will be served by Mrs Jones and Mrs Nels Anderson.

we cordially invite...

our city neighbors to join us this year, as we celebrate the 25th birthday of rural electrification.

THERE'S A GOOD REASON. City jobs are more secure, paychecks fatter, and business is better, since rural Americans banded together to serve themselves with electric light and power.

THIS YEAR THEY WILL BUY over a billion dollars worth of electric appliances and equipment—made and sold in cities and towns. And this market didn't exist until rural America was electrified by member-owned, private enterprises, such as ours.

THOUSANDS OF MEN, WOMEN, CHILDREN—our city neighbors—live happier, safer lives today, because of this great surge of buying power provided by the growing needs of rural America.

That's why we're proud to say . . .

RURAL ELECTRIFICATION
is good for ALL Americans!
