WHAT'S DOING

"Nebraska has no seacoast. The native Hollander wears wooden shoes." Sound like strange conversation? Bell Telephone Laboratories engineers don't think so. It's part of a test to lessen noise on your phone. These sentences are taped against a background of noise, then played over phones to listeners who rate how clearly they sound. Our engineers learn a lot from this test—another way we work to bring you trouble-free phoning.

Each pair of insulated gloves worn by telephone men has a date stamped on it. On that day, he'll turn them in for a new pair so the old ones can get their "bath". But it's not to keep them clean. This "bath" has 10,000 volts of electricity shooting through it and if there's the slightest flaw in a glove, a hot blue arc warns: "Throw it out!" This attention to what seems a small detail is mighty important to telephone men who might work near power lines. And, because they know they're safe on the job, they can devote all their skill to bringing you good service.

Flowers from the garden are one way to brighten up the house. Here's another way to bring spring in: "Pick a phone" from our garden of colors: red, pink, yellow, ivory, green, blue, beige, gray, or white. Extension phones are practical as well as pretty, like this kitchen wall phone. It hangs up handily, saves counter space... and saves you steps. Why not call a service representative at our business office, or talk to your telephone service man.

They'll be glad to help you pick a phone—or as many as you need—for your home. Pacific Telephone—Northwest
