"OVER THE TEE CUP"

By JACKIE LABHART

No golfer could have asked for a more beautiful day than we had for our kick-off breakfast Sunday. Our links were so crowded that we looked like a big city golf course, with players on every green and a large waiting line on the no 1 tee.

Among those seen enjoying the delicious breakfast in the patio room of the Wishing Well were the Buck Ruhl's, Gene Case, the Lowell Gribbles, Cork Norone, the Conley Lanhams, Roberta Dougherty, the Phil Mahoneys, Ned Sweek, Ray Ferguson, the Clint McQuarries, Ed Bennett, the Bob Jepsens, LaVerne Van Marter, Bud Collins, Frank Anderson, John Jepsen, Bob Frink, the Jim Driscolls, Eddie Gunderson, the Bill Collins, Terrel Bengie, Bill Blake and the Bill Labharts. Following this nutrition we then displayed ambition and played nine holes of competitive golf. Winners in the mens competition were Ned Sweek for the longest drive on no 6 and Bob Frink and "Grib" tied for low gross score. In the women's category, Marie won both the hidden hole and the fewest number of putts.

SUNDAY PARTEE LINE PICK-UPS: that on Clint's second nine (which didn't count for prizes) he shot a 32 with an eagle on no 8... that Buck was exposed to the "bug" Sunday and now seems to have the "golf fever" along with the rest of us... Cork having met trouble on no 6.

At our ladies competition Tuesday we again separated the golfers from the gals, for the "coffee station" on no 7 was a welcome sight during our nine hole play. The fearless females were Coramae Ferguson, Roberta Dougherty, Faye Ruhl, Vi Lanham, Hester Creswick, Hazel Mahoney, Sue Valentine, Dee Gribble, Donna McCurdy, Marie McQuarrie, Ruth Van Winkle and myself. Donna won a new golf ball for having the most 7s. Vi shot low gross and Roberta had low net score.

WINDY WONDERINGS: If Sue thawed out before she started home... if there isn't such a thing as being plagued by bad luck (Dee and I had to have some excuse)... if Faye hasn't been practicing in the "south forty" for she certainly shoots a good game of golf for the little time she has been playing... if "chloe" Lanham wasn't a little upset with the swamp ditch on no 7... if Kay Robinson (who still has her right arm in a support) wasn't a little chilly just walking around the course with us.

During our lunch Hazel, the ladies tournament chairman, announced that the first game in the ladder tournament should be played as soon as possible. Dee also announced that the womens' handicaps have been figured and are posted on the bulletin board at the no 1 tee.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT: don't forget April 23 is the date for our big "golf-ball". This affair is strictly for members only and further information will be given later.

Until next tee time, keep swinging.

Q. Should women be allowed to drive 'Jeep' vehicles?
(asked of 'Jeep' vehicle owners)

Sam Brysen, Mechanic
No! Definitely no! 'Jeep' vehicles do a man-sized job and should be driven only by men. Women don't even understand what 4-wheel drive means, so how can you expect them to operate a vehicle that's engineered for 4-wheel drive from the ground up?

Myra Slade, Farm Wife
What a question! I drive a 'Jeep' Universal every day. I cross some rough countryside, and I'd sure hate to be stuck without 4-wheel drive! Anyway, women are more careful drivers than men.

Clem Neff, Baker
I pass. My wife may read this.

Cliff Tanzer, Salesman
I believe in live and let live. Women could never appreciate 'Jeep' vehicles the way men do - what do they care about the low initial cost or the high resale value? But why not let women in on the pleasure of real driving? After all, it's a free country.

Well, folks, we don't want to start a battle of the sexes! Why don't you all just drop in to our showroom for a free demonstration of 'Jeep' vehicles today - and form your own opinion? (Ladies invited!)
