I find I was a month ahead of time when I recommended in this column that you watch for another of the TV presentations in the series of "WOMAN" on The Troubled Teens. It is scheduled for April 28 from 2 to 3 P.M. instead of March 28 as I had thought.

"Jane Wyatt, star of "Father Knows Best", and mother of 16 and 22 year old sons, is hostess for this program in which viewers meet Bettina Graham, 16-year-old student at the Abington Township high school, just outside Philadelphia. By following Bettina on a round of activities with young people who are neither juvenile delinquents nor "typical teen-age" caricatures. The program attempts to pin-point just why today's youth seem to live in a world of its own, cut off from parents and mature counselors at the time of life when understanding guidance is vital.

At the program's close, members of the White House Conference on children and youth sum up their findings and offer suggestions to both parents and teenagers.

UNUSUAL DEW FOAM PLASTIC TOTE BAGS will be woven and decorated with plastic flowers at the homemaker workshop classes starting May 3. Professional cake decorating and textile painting will be included in the free instruction that is being sponsored by the women members of the Lexington Oil cooperative. Inez Herrin of Hollywood, shown in the photo with samples of the tote bags, will be in charge of the classes.
