That Our History May Be Remembered . . .

Next Sunday Morrow County and the City of Heppner will receive the keys to its new Memorial Museum-Library building from its donor, Mrs. Harry Duvall, and all its residents should be mighty proud of the gift they are getting. It is one of the finest and most modern buildings of its type to be found anywhere in Oregon.

Mrs. Duvall has given well over $60,000 and nearly two years of her time as a member of the museum commission to provide a lasting place for the display of historic items of Morrow county that they may be kept for many generations to come. In addition, the building will give a badly needed home to Heppner's public library.

The city and the county, at no cost to its other citizens, will take over this beautiful building, and will cooperate in the future to maintain and operate it. There are few communities that can boast of such a gift.

Mrs. Duvall got the idea of such a project more than two years ago while the whole state was planning its 100th birthday party, and offered to provide the money for the building if a commission could be set up to help plan and facilitate its construction and eventually oversee the museum. When it was suggested the city library might be included in the building, the City of Heppner offered to donate a portion of its city park as a site. The offer was accepted and the modern building now adds much to the appearance of Heppner's Main street.

Morrow county is rich in history, yet much of it would have been lost had not this museum of it created by a woman who wished to leave something that could be a lasting memorial to her late husband. The real value of her generous gift will undoubtedly be appreciated more by the generations that will follow, than by those of us now living who are still able to remember much of the local history. In another 20, 30 or 50 years there will be no one left alive to tell of the Heppner flood, the Indian wars, the Oregon Trail, or the settling and homesteading of the county, yet, in this museum will be retained the important history of a sizeable portion of the state of Oregon. Without such a place, much of this history would surely be lost.

On a plaque in the Museum-Library will be the words, "In Memory of Harry S. Duvall. Presented to the County of Morrow and the City of Heppner by Amanda Duvall." The type in which these words will be set should be large. Mrs. Duvall's gift certainly is.

The second annual beef cattle day held at Oregon State College last Wednesday seemed to be enjoyed by the 150 persons who were there. Attending from Morrow county were Herb Ekstrom, Frank Anderson and myself.

TO THE EDITOR . . .

To The Editor

Once again the shortage of nurses at Pioneer Memorial hospital is in a state of emergency.

Some of the local nurses have been helping out, providing services maybe for yourself or some of your loved ones.

Although they are compensated for their services ($20.00 per 8 hour shift) we feel they have been doing so, because they feel it is their duty to help their fellow man.

We have been operating the hospital for the last 6 months with the same few, loyal local nurses.

Our latest tally reveals there are approximately 36 registered nurses in Morrow county.

We feel it would not be a hardship on anyone of those nurses not working at this time to help out by working one 8 hour shift per week or even one 8 hour shift every 2 weeks.

We have advertised extensively, contacted nursing schools, state agencies, etc.

Our pay scale is far above average. We offer extensive fringe benefits to no avail.

We cannot force registered nurses to come to Heppner.

Through the means of this article we are sincerely soliciting the services of other registered nurses in Morrow county.

If you feel you are obligated to your fellow man and are in a position to help out, please contact our superintendent of nurses, Mrs. R. A. Casebeer or myself at your convenience.

Remember this is an extreme emergency and every help you can give us will be really appreciated by the patients at Pioneer Memorial hospital.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

From the files of the Gazette-Times
May 29, 1930

S. E. Notson was elected president and D. T. Goodman, secretary of the reorganized Heppner Commercial club when the Lions Club luncheon adjourned itself into a meeting of the commercial organization Monday.

Serving on the grand jury are L. L. Gilliam and J. W. Hiatt of Heppner, Laxton McMurray, Walter Eubanks, James Blackwell and Mrs. Bert Mason of Ione and Mrs. C. H. McDaniel of Hardman.

Misses Nelle and Neva Bleakman visited Mr. and Mrs. Rho Bleakman Thursday.

Dick Wightman will be sent as a delegate to Richmond Va. June 23 to the national convention of the Theta Kappa Nu. Other students at Oregon State from Heppner are Gerald Slocum, Harold Becket, Merle Becket, Ray McDuffee, Howard McDuffee and C. A. Lowell.

feeding and breeding programs was interesting. The college has small herds of Angus, Herefords and Beefmaster cattle. Progeny testing and rate of gain is being carried on in selecting within various lines in each of the Angus and Hereford breeds. Dr. J. C. Miller, head, department of dairy and animal husbandry at the college pointed out that the Beefmaster herd was carried experimentally to determine their place in Oregon and that because the college had the herd did not mean their endorsement of that breed. The Beefmaster breed is composed of a blending of the breeds of Brahman, Hereford and Shorthorn.

Next best to attending the program would be a review of the summary of reports printed for the day. Copies of these are available at this office.

On Tuesday afternoon before the beef cattle day we attended the annual meeting of the Oregon Beef Cattle Improvement Association. This group was holding its first annual meeting. The group organized a year ago to set up standards for improving beef in the state. Their standards follow those of the international production registry association.

A handy little guide called "How Much Fertilizer Shall I Use" is available from this office. It is a gardener's guide for converting tons or pounds per acre into pints, cups, tablespoons or teaspoons per row or plant. It is just the thing when the county agent tells you to apply ammonium sulphate at the rate of 250 pounds per acre when you are talking about a 40 by 20 foot garden. You can pick up your copy at this office.

The news this week is being written early because of a livestock conference which will involve the agents on Wednesday and Thursday of this week. During the two days Joe Hay and myself along with agents from many of the counties throughout the state will grade lambs, hogs, and beef on the hoof and tour Safeway's meat distribution center at Clarkamas. This is a new meat processing warehouse which covers about 15 acres. On the second day, carcasses of those judged on the hoof will be graded in Swift and Company's coolers. This workshop is scheduled to better acquaint the agents with recent changes in livestock grades and to be better prepared for grading livestock at county fairs and doing educational work during the year. Also to be discussed during the two day conference is the Oregon State College soil testing program which is making some drastic changes.

NOW LOOK WHAT CORVAIR'S GONE AND DONE!

The same Corvair that tallied a thumping 27.03 miles per gallon* in the Mobilgas Economy Run . . . went right on to climb Pikes Peak earlier in the spring than any car has ever tried!

We wanted to show you what the fabulous traction of Corvair's rear-engine design and the sure-footedness of four-wheel independent suspension really mean. So the identical Economy Run car went right on to 14,110-foot Pikes Peak—and right up to the top of that savage mountain, on April 15, still deep in winter's snow and ice. No other car—even specially equipped—had ever been able to conquer that nightmare alpine road so early in the spring. But Corvair (with United States Auto Club officials aboard to certify that not one nut or bolt was changed) purred right to the summit without chains or even snow tires! That just underscores the fact that Corvair is totally unique. But you'll find that out the first five minutes you're at the wheel!

Try the remarkable Corvair at your local authorized Chevrolet dealer's
