Orange Blossom Wedding Punch

Whether for a shower or a home wedding reception, what could be prettier than a sunny punch bowl highlighted by a wedding ring of orange blossoms in ice?

Good way to decorate your punch and at the same time keep it chilled. If you cannot get the fresh blooms, use the imitation ones which have been used as hat trimmings for years.

Convenient frozen concentrated Florida orange juice is a perfect choice for the base of your punch. You'll find it economical and healthfully refreshing, too. Besides the ice ring of blossoms, float a few thin slices of Florida oranges for added color.

Orange Blossom Punch

4 cans (6 ounces each) Florida frozen concentrated orange juice
5 cups cold water
1 quart water and ice cubes
1 quart chilled gingerale
2 Florida oranges, thinly sliced

Combine undiluted concentrate with the 5 cups cold water in punch bowl. Add additional water and ice cubes; stir until melted. Add gingerale. Garnish with halved orange slices and ice ring. Yield: 32 1/2-cup servings.

Note: If desired, recipe may be doubled. Champagne may be substituted for gingerale if desired.

Orange Blossom Ice Ring

Fill 5 cup ring mold with water. Float fresh orange blossoms or other small blossoms, small green leaves and small fruit of your choice, in the water and freeze. If you do not have a freezing compartment, a similar arrangement can be done in an through the social security taxes taken out of their pay envelopes they are building protection for their years of retirement. Their knowledge of this Federal insurance program stops right there, Vernon Welo, district manager of the La Grande social security office, declares.

Many of them, he said, are not aware of the family protection they have in case of their death before reaching retirement age. Others do not know that through their earnings and social security tax on those earnings they are also building disability insurance protection for themselves and their dependents.

"Every working person and his family should know that, through his social security tax payments, he is building three-way protection. He should realize that the modest deductions from his pay envelope can provide a monthly income if his earnings are cut off either by old-age, disability, or death," Welo points out.

Social security insurance payments are only a partial replacement of lost earnings. However, because most working people are
