Fair and Rodeo Court Visits Hospital Patients

Queen Susan and her princesses, Charlene Jones, Sharon Crabtree, Marjorie Peck and Geraldine Swaggart took time off from their many activities this week to visit on Thursday afternoon the nursing home at the Pioneer Memorial hospital.

The girls visited 17 patients in the home and small souvenirs were presented by the different girls to the patients, these being small ribbons of white silk fastened with a red, or white rose, and was printed with the Morrow County Fair and Rodeo dates and the girls' names. The patients, who had been told earlier of the visit, were anxiously waiting for the royalty, and all had something fine to say to the girls. While awaiting the photographer to take pictures, the girls were served orange juice and their chaperone coffee. After a visit in the nursing home, the girls visited upstairs, and among those visited were Mr and Mrs Garnett Barratt, former Morrow county judge, Dick Kononen, a friend of the girls, and several others including a small boy from Condon in the children's ward.

The girls were accompanied by their assistant chaperone, Mrs Cecil Jones. The girls all expressed their appreciation to the hospital for this opportunity and to the nurse who acted as their guide during the visit.

Mrs Emma Evans of Portland is a guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr and Mrs Harold Evans.

BEST CAKE BAKERS—Winners of the Oregon Wheat Growers League cake baking contest at last week's fair were Mrs Marion Finch, center, who took first place, Mrs Jack Healy, left, second; and Mrs Willard French, right, of Pine City. Her first prize cake gives Mrs Finch the chance to take part in the state bake-off in December in Portland. (GT Photo)

"LET'S DO A LITTLE SAMPLING," says fair judge, Mrs Kem Tollefson, Hermiston, as she samples the cake made by Jeane Stockard, Heppner, a contestant in the cake baking contest of the Morrow county fair. Mrs Douglas Drake, Jeane's 4-H leader of Heppner, smiles approval. (By Esther Kirmis)

Jimmy Schaffitz Has Seventh Birthday

On Monday afternoon, August 29th Jimmy Schaffitz was honored with a birthday party at the home of his parents, Dr and Mrs Ed Schaffitz.

The guests for the party were Brian, David and Mike Hughes, Mark Lovgren, and Terry Corbin. After playing games refreshments of ice cream, cake and punch were served.

Diane, Jimmy's sister assisted with the party.

The Morrow county fair has come and gone, but happy memories remain!

Over 200 4-H youngsters experienced excitement and success when they took part in home economics, livestock, and horse activities at the fair in its four day run. It is truly the climax of the 4-H club year.

4-H leaders and parents were also in there pitching to probe the 4-H spirit at this annual event. I'm thinking of the public style revue, the 4-H milk bar, the 4-H dinner served to the public at the fair on Thursday, the 4-H council booth, and the 4-H float for the parade.

Eugene Girl Tells Of Forthcoming Marriage To Lance Tibbles

Mr and Mrs W E Sandquist of Eugene announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter Patricia Kay, to Warren Lance Tibbles, son of Dr and Mrs L D Tibbles of Heppner.

Both young people are students at the University of Oregon. Miss Sandquist will be a senior in music education and Lance will enter the University of Oregon school of law this fall.

The wedding will be on September 11 in Eugene.

Mrs Thompson Feted At Birthday Party

Last Thursday, August 25 Mrs James J Farley honored Mrs Alex Thompson with a birthday luncheon at the Elks dining room.

Guests were Mesdames Frank Anderson, Velma Glass, LaVerne Van Marter, Gene Hall, James Norene, Howard Cleveland and Richard Meador.

Jordans Entertained With Dinner Party

Last Saturday evening, Mr and Mrs Bob Platt entertained their house guests, Mr and Mrs Del Jordan of Pendleton, with a dinner party.

Guests besides the Jordans were Mr and Mrs Don Pyle and Mr and Mrs Marshall Lovgren.

Many Home Ec Winners Eligible For State Fair

Over 30 Morrow county girls qualified for competition at the State Fair in Salem, Oregon, September 2-10 by winning blue ribbons in the Morrow county fair this past week. According to Esther Kirmis, county extension agent the following are eligible:

Heath, Heppner spent many hours decorating the pavilion stage for the 4-H style revue on Wednesday evening.

The Roy Martins, the Jim Bloodsworths of Lexington and the Garry Tullises of Ione operated the "4-H milk bar", a snack concession where sandwiches, ice cream, and milk were disbursed for four days.

The 4-H dinner was under the direction of Mrs L A McCabe, Ione; Mrs N C Anderson, Mrs Douglas Drake and Mrs Andy Van Schoelack, Heppner. Over 300 people were served on Thursday.

Mrs Merritt Gray and Mrs Paul Warren, Heppner, along with girls of Mrs Gray's 4-H club, created the 4-H booth on the "Rock-a-Bye Baby" theme which highlighted the new Child Care 4-H project now available in the state.

I played a new role on Saturday when I became the old woman in the shoe on the 4-H council float. The William Rawlins', Louis Carlsons' and Raymond Lundells' of Ione concocted the biggest "shoe" you ever saw. They built it on Lundell's truck. It was a split level white shoe, decorated with summer flowers and a corn-stalk roof that housed 40 children.

One 4-H parent shouted at me, "Dakota would never know you now!"

A single gal with 40 kids? They'd never believe it!

Mathews, Ione.
