BARBARA KAYE STEAGALL AND GREGORY LEYVA MARRIED SATURDAY

By DELPHA JONES
Saturday morning at 10 o'clock was the hour chosen by Miss Barbara Kaye Steagall, daughter of Mr and Mrs Wilbur Steagall, for her marriage to Gregory Leyva, son of Mr and Mrs Gar Leyva. The Nuptial Mass was read by the Rev Father Raymond Beard of the St Patrick's Catholic church of Heppner where the wedding took place.

The bride, given in marriage by her father Wilbur Steagall, was lovely in a white lace over taffeta ballerina length wedding gown with scalloped neckline and quarter length sleeves with accent on the back. She wore a shoulder length veil of net and lace and carried a cascade of white glads tied with net and satin ribbon and cradled in the middle the lovely white bridal orchid. Her matron of honor was a sister, Mrs Jerry Dougherty of Heppner who wore a turquoise colored sleeveless ballerina length gown, a white hat, and carried a cascade of pink carnations and white everlasting tied with pink net and ribbon. The brides maids wore identical gowns to the matron of honor, and they were Mrs Howard Crowell of Ione, and Deanna Steagall of Portland, both sisters of the bride, and Charlene Jones of Lexington. Best man for the groom was his brother Hugo Leyva.

Preceding the bridal party down the aisle was the flower girl, Kathleen McElligott of Ione dressed in a white nylon dress, who was accompanied by the ring bearer Kennon Scrivner. Mrs Don Hatfield of Madras was the vocalist and was accompanied by Miss Marguerite Glavey. Ushers were Tommy Martin, Billy Doherty, Russell Dolven, and Jim Steagall of Lexington and Glenn Eatch of Portland. Altar boys were Lee Daggett and Kip Scrivner.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the pariah hall with the rooms beautifully decorated with pink glads. The main table was adorned with a centerpiece of pink and white glads, and coffee was poured from a beautiful silver service by Mrs Emma Breshears grandmother of the bride. The punch was served by Mrs Hugo Leyva, grandmother of the groom. Also served were dainty sandwiches and side dishes. The cake, a lovely bridal creation of three tiers with the traditional bride and groom adorning the top, was served by Mrs Bob Steagall, and from this table was served ice cream mints, by Mrs Don Hatfield. In charge of the guest book was Miss Alene Boyajian, and Mrs Bill Steagall of Pendleton was in charge of the gifts.

The reception was in charge of Mrs Bill Doherty and Mrs Roy Martin with Mrs Tad Miller assisting.

For going away the bride wore a natural linen suit, with an orchid corsage. After a trip to Western Oregon the young couple will be at home in Portland where Mr Leyva will attend flight school at Troutdale.
