

New Extension Unit Names Officers

Mrs. Gene Cutsforth, Lexington rancher-homemaker, was named chairman of the newly formed North Lexington Extension Unit, according to Esther Kirmis, Morrow county extension agent.

Other officers elected at the organizational meeting held at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Turner on Oct. 4 included Mrs. Kenneth Cutsforth vice chairman, and Mrs. Ronald Haguewood, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Ed Baker, Lexington, presided over the meeting as a member of the county advisory committee. She gave out the unit year books to the members and discussed the duties of each office with the group.

Mrs. Keith Rea and Mrs. Le-Land McKinney, project leaders from Ione extension unit, presented the lesson on "Labels Tell the Inside Story" to the interested group.

"The lesson was well received," reports Mrs. Haguewood, secretary. "The part informing us that companies have various brand names which designate quality of a food and that ingredients are listed in order of their quantity on the label were regarded as most enlightening."

The new night extension unit will meet again on November 1 at the home of Mrs. Pat Cutsforth to discuss "A Look at a Woman's World," the project lesson for all units in November.

If any other groups wish to organize into a night extension group they should contact the County Agent's office, urges Miss Kirmis.

Mrs. Alta Cutsforth and Mrs. Nellie Jones will return this week from a week's vacation in Hawaii.

4-H Record Books Due October 15

The 4-H record book contest committee has asked us to remind all 4-H boys and girls interested in participating in the 4-H record book contest to have their records in to the County Extension office not later than noon, Saturday, October 15.

The record books will be judged starting Monday morning, Oct. 17. Therefore, it is essential that all record books be in by noon Saturday. The 4-H Council is again awarding prizes for the best agricultural record book, in the nine to thirteen age class and in the 14 to 21 year age class. Cash prizes will be also awarded for the best set of records from a club and the best secretary's record book.

Laymen's Sunday Observed By Church

Clifford Trout, pastor of the Mallory Avenue Christian church, in Portland, will be the guest speaker at the Heppner Christian church, this Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock worship service.

Once a year special recognition is given to the laymen of the church, and the men of the church conduct the morning worship service.

Mr. Trout is no stranger to the Heppner church, as he conducted an evangelistic meet here a number of years ago. He was also program chairman for the 1960 state convention of Christian churches which is held at Turner each year.

Following the morning worship hour there will be a potluck dinner for the members and friends of the church, to meet and renew old acquaintances with Mr. and Mrs. Trout.

Woods Hooligan Contest Ends

Hey kids! Do you know what a Woods Hooligan looks like? If you can visualize one and make a poster showing him you may win a valuable prize.

The Governor's Red Hat Days committee is sponsoring a Woods Hooligan poster contest in two categories: one for elementary school students and the other for high school students.

Contestants should submit poster ideas on 11 by 14 inch material and illustrate either one or all of the Woods Hooligan family which includes:

- Pyro Hooligan (the fire setter)
- Klepto Hooligan (the thief)
- Destructo Hooligan (the destroyer of property)
- Dummo Hooligan (too dumb to read so he trespasses and shoots up signs).

A weekly prize will be awarded in each division and the winning posters will be entered in competition for the grand prizes. Judges for the contest will be Carl Bonnell, Oregon Journal cartoonist; Art Brimrose, Oregonian cartoonist; and Harold Cramer Smith, Game Commission staff artist.

Contest rules are as follows:

1. There will be two divisions, an elementary school division and a high school division.
2. No entries will be returned.
3. The contest will run from September 24 through October 31.
4. Posters are to be submitted on 11 by 14 inch material in color or black and white.
5. There will be one weekly prize and three final prizes in

6. Prize winners in the weekly contest will be entered in the final judging.

Entries postmarked after October 31, 1960, will not be eligible.

7. The name, address, age, and school of the entrant must be included on the back of each poster submitted.

8. Entries should be sent to: Woods Hooligan, P. O. Box 4136, Portland 8, Oregon.

Practical Nurse Training Course Set

According to information received this week by the Morrow County health department, October 24 has been set as the date for the 1960-61 class in practical nurse training. The class will meet at 10:00 a.m. Monday morning, Oct. 24 in Room 7 of the John Murray Junior High School building in Pendleton.

The objectives of the Practical Nurse training program are: To prepare women for a career in practical nursing; to develop an understanding of the practical nurse on the nursing team; to prepare the trainee for examination to qualify as a licensed practical nurse.

Anyone interested in the course should contact Mr. Lennis E. Nash, Box 316, Pendleton Public Schools, Pendleton, as soon as possible to enter the October 24 class.

WHAT'S DOING

Coast-to-coast phone calls by satellite. Scientists of Bell Telephone Laboratories tell us that someday long distance calls may very well reach your home in the Heppner area via man-made satellites.

Working under National Aeronautics and Space Administration's sponsorship, they carried on a two-way phone conversation between the Bell Telephone Labs in New Jersey and a NASA base in California via a "Project Echo" satellite. The signals carrying their voices were bounced off a 100-foot aluminized plastic sphere orbiting 1000 miles above the earth.

The Bell Telephone System has outlined to the government a plan to use about 50 satellites to provide communications between the United States and other parts of the world. Besides relaying phone calls, these satellites could also bring you live television from anywhere on earth.

Election day, November 8, is still a few days off. But it's not too early to make plans so you'll be sure to get to the polls. If you need transportation, now's the time to arrange with your friends for a ride. If small children keep you close to home, perhaps you can swap baby-sitting chores with a neighbor.

You can make these arrangements by phone... but that's not why I mention them. I just want to remind you that every vote is important. Be sure you cast yours November 8.

If we're to believe cartoonists, teenagers really enjoy telephoning more than anybody. Can't say if that's true, but you may be interested in the special equipment we have developed to help schools in teaching the various communications skills.

It's called Teletrainer, and the instruction material provided with it has been developed with the able assistance of educators. Teletrainer is used in teaching English and Business Studies as well as Speech. Last year nearly a quarter of a million high school students in the Pacific West had Teletrainer instruction.

We make Teletrainer available to schools and teachers without charge. For information about Teletrainer here in Heppner, Lexington, Ione, just call our business office CR 6-5051.
