

Stadleman Reports Observations Made On World Tour

George (Bun) Stadleman, The Dalles, told members of the Heppner-Morrow County Chamber of Commerce Monday that they were lucky to live in the United States but that living here gave them responsibilities. He cited taking an active part in the work of their church, their civic organizations, and their government as responsibilities of all Americans.

Stadleman was reporting on the recent trip he and his wife took around the world. The three month tour took them to 27 different countries.

Hong Kong, the British Crown colony, could not protect itself if China wanted them gone, he said. Citing the fact that 20 to 25 different shiploads per day disappear behind the Bamboo Curtain with supplies for those on the mainland, he indicated that the need of a port for these supplies is the reason Hong Kong is allowed to remain in the hands of the British.

The Nationalist Chinese government does not have the support of the Chinese outside the Bamboo Curtain and there is no chance of it ever returning to the mainland, Stadleman said.

We have sent fifty million dollars to Indonesia last year, but our help did not get past the top one-half of one percent, he said. Charging the government corruption was extensive, Stadleman said. The Communists would take over the country or there would be a revolution. He said our help is doing good in Bangkok, Thailand and particularly Pakistan, where we are making real friends and supporting a real attempt at democracy.

The Japanese people like Americans, the speaker said. He explained that the recent protests against Eisenhower's visit were the result of Communist agitators paying students to demonstrate and said that they did not represent the feeling of the people. "They are still the only people in the world who have ever known the bomb, and they are scared," he said.

Economically, Japan is having the greatest boom of any place in the world, with France second and West Germany third, all before the United States. Two things contribute to the upsurge in France; elimination of all taxes for ten years on new buildings and the Common Market. Since DeGaulle, France is in the biggest building boom of her history, and "the Common Market is going to revolutionize" world trade, he contended.

The Wheat League program in the Orient is doing a fine job of educating the people to like wheat products, Stadleman said. The Indians are limited because of lack of money but he predicted a greatly enlarged market in Japan where, he said, the only thing holding down purchases at present was the lack of equipment in the home baking. When commercial bakeries are built, wheat will go a long way toward replacing rice in the diet of the Japanese, he said.

Stadleman is the Republican candidate for the state legislature against the incumbent, Ben Musa of The Dalles. His talk to the Chamber was non-political.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Watkins were in Condon Sunday visiting Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Cushman and also to see their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cushman who had come from The Dalles to Condon for the day. Their grandson Mike returned to spend a few days with them.

Mrs. McCurdy Heads Cancer Survey Here

A re-check of Morrow county families enrolled in the six-year cancer prevention study of the American Cancer Society will get underway during October, says Mrs. Harlan McCurdy, Jr. of Heppner, chairman for Morrow county. The job is to be completed by October 31.

When the long-range study began just a year ago, 96 families and 182 individuals in this county were enrolled. They provided confidential information about their health histories and personal living habits to help society researchers determine, if possible, why some people get cancer, others don't. The questionnaires were sent in sealed envelopes to New York headquarters of the American Cancer Society.

All told, some 1,100,000 Americans were enrolled in the giant study believed to be the largest statistical sampling ever undertaken in the health field. This is 100,000 more than the original goal of 1,000,000 persons set by the society's medical affairs department. They were signed up for participation by more than 69,000 volunteer workers.

Oregon's share of this total was 29,567 individuals in 15,815 families. They live in 27 different counties of the state.

Purpose of the re-check this fall is to find out how many deaths have occurred among the participants in the intervening months and how many, if any, of those deaths were caused by cancer. A similar re-check will be made annually throughout the six-year study.

Director of the survey for the American Cancer Society's Oregon division is Mrs. S. W. Meserve, Portland. A. C. Hutchinson, M. D., Portland, is chairman of its cancer prevention committee. They were assisted by more than 1,700 volunteers.

Morrow county volunteers were: Mrs. Jean Bennett, Mrs. Elizabeth Daggett, Mrs. Howard Pettyjohn, Mrs. Sue Valentine, and Mrs. Shirley Loyd, of Heppner; Mrs. Gina Leonard and Mrs. Eileen Padberg, Lexington; Mrs. Margaret Morgan and Mrs. Delores Barnett, of Ione.

Mustangs Fall To Madras; Entertain Condon Tomorrow

By NEAL PENLAND

Madras White Buffalo's aerial attack was just too much for the Heppner high Mustangs as they were downed 33 to 7 before the slim home crowd.

Heppner's defensive squad made five mistakes that the Madras team took advantage of. Outside of the passes the Mustangs had the White Buffalo's pretty well under control.

The first quarter was a hard fought one with Heppner going across but being called back because of a penalty.

In the second quarter, Madras got their first touchdown when Garry Galbraith flipped a pass to Gary Moe that covered 35 yards. Kent Cochran ran right end for the extra point.

Late in the first half the Buff's again scored when Galbraith went back and passed to Denny Tingle who went 14 yards and Moe ran the extra point.

Opening the second half, Heppner kicked-off to Madras and on the first play from scrimmage Moe again cut loose and scampered 68 yards for the score. Mid-way through the third period Madras again scored when Galbraith went back to throw his third TD pass of the game, this time to Ron Betzen with the play netting 25 yards for the Buffs.

Late in the stanza Heppner finally hit the scoring column when Neal Penland tossed a pass to Tom Green who went over from the 10 yard line. Penland went off tackle for the extra point.

The fourth quarter saw only one touchdown scored by Madras when Galbraith threw his last TD pass of the game and again to Moe with the play netting 56 yards.

Dan Bronson and Larry Tibbles won praise from coach Dick Haworth for their outstanding defensive work.

The White Buffalo's had 12 first downs and 471 yards to Heppner's 9 first downs and 209 yards.

Next week Heppner will take on the Condon Blue Devils on the home field Friday night at 8:00.
