By ESTHER KIRKIS

Joe Hay and I felt a little bit like Nixon and Kennedy last week when we stumped all the county schools promoting 4-H work. You see, October 1 is the beginning of a new club year. We met with all grades, starting with the fourth, and interested high school students to explain to them the privileges of belonging to a 4-H club. As a 4-H member they have the privilege of joining a 4-H club with other boys and girls; wearing a 4-H insignia; attending 4-H tours, meetings, camps, participating in 4-H contests and awards programs, and exhibiting in 4-H classes at fairs.

We used our film strip, "Morrow of Tomorrow" to explain to the youngsters the working of the year's 4-H program in the county. In this film-strip we have selected colored slides of local 4-H events in the county and have woven a story around them about the 4-H family of William Morrow. We found this to be a good way to explain the program in a short period of time.

Placards listing all of the 40-some projects offered in Oregon displayed and Joe and I gave highlights on each of the projects.

Cards were then passed out to see what projects interested the boys and girls. We explained to them that this did not enroll us an idea of what type of projects are in demand.

It's not hard to sell 4-H work to youngsters. They are eager to belong to a club and have a project; it's the securing of 4-H leaders for these clubs that is the 904 question.

We will be contacting people who we believe have a genuine interest and desire to work with boys and girls for leaders. The names of interested boys and girls will be given to the leader so that he can call them together for a club organization.

Besides the usual interest in clothing, food, livestock and saddle horses the cards indicate an interest in farming, child care, knitting, archery, and gun clubs.

Just after we finished these visits to the schools a ruling came from the state 4-H club office that members must be 11 years old before they can enroll in archery and gun. We know there will be many disappointed 9 and 10-year-olds, but we're hoping that they will settle for another 4-H project for the year.

If your boy or girl is interested in becoming a 4-H member and was not contacted during our school visits please contact the county agent's office.

To be a 4-H member in Oregon a child must:

- Be 9 years old before Jan. 1 and under 21
- Have a project of their own
- Do their own project work
- Cooperate with a 4-H leader and fellow 4-H members
- Keep 4-H records as required for the project
- Turn in a project completion card when the project is completed.

Juvenile Advisory Council Holds First Meeting Tuesday

Duties of the Juvenile Advisory Council were outlined to the newly appointed seven man council for Morrow county by district attorney Robert Abrams, Umatilla county juvenile director Jim Harness, and Terry Lesh, Umatilla juvenile counselor, Monday night. Meeting with juvenile judge Oscar Peterson in his chambers the group studied and discussed House Bill no. 153, pertaining to juveniles in the state of Oregon, passed by the 1959 legislature.

This law provides that the juvenile court judge or judges of each county having a population of over 10,000 shall appoint a juvenile advisory council. Other counties may do so but are not required to by the law. The council is to consist of seven directors and such other members as may be appointed.

In cooperation with the juvenile court the council is to study and make recommendations concerning the operation of the juvenile court, including the counselors and other personnel, detention facilities, shelter care, foster homes and other facilities functioning or needed in connection with the care of children.

The council is to study and make recommendations in connection with community programs and services designed to prevent or correct juvenile delinquency and other children's problems of the type coming before the juvenile court.

It is to take appropriate action to stimulate community interest in the problems of children and to carry out the recommendations of the council. It is required to make an annual report concerning its activity.

The law also provides for the county court to spend regular county funds for the activities of the council.

Harness stressed that the provisions of the act shall be liberally construed to the end that a child coming within the jurisdiction of the court may receive such care, guidance and control, as will lead to the child's welfare and the best interests of the public. It is preferable on the part of the state that the child remain in his own home, but if it is necessary to remove him from the control of his parents, the court is to secure for him care that best meets the needs of the child.

Gene Majeski, Lexington, was elected chairman of the council with Mrs. Roland Bergstrom, Ione to serve as secretary. The council will meet each month on the first Monday.

Plans were made for some members to attend the juvenile advisory council institute which will be held in Salem Oct. 28-29. Who will represent the Morrow County Council at the meeting will be decided later, possibly two members.

All seven members attended the first meeting of the new organization. Besides Majeski and Mrs. Bergstrom they were Gordon Pratt and the Rev. Bruce Spencer, Heppner; Mrs. Norman Nelson, Ione; Harold Baker, Boardman and Vernon H. Geberding, Irrigon.

Alton Yarnell, son of Mrs. Kathryn Yarnell and Mildred Butterfield were married in Reno, Nevada, October 12, 1960. The Yarnell's spent a short honeymoon at Lake Tahoe and returned home Monday. They will be at home in White's Apartment.

In Heppner last week to attend the funeral of Dick Kononen were Mrs. Monte Carnes of LaGrande, Stephen Green of Pendleton, Mrs. James Green and Mrs. Don Anderson of Arlington.

Last Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond French were in Condon visiting Mrs. French's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. David Peterson and to attend a birthday party Saturday night in honor of Mr. Peterson's birthday.
