Many Given Awards In 4-H Achievement

Over 350 enthusiastic 4-H members, proud parents, and encouraging friends gathered at the Heppner Fair Pavilion on Saturday evening, Nov. 5, to celebrate the annual 4-H Achievement Day, according to Esther Kirms and Joe Hay, county extension agents.

The party theme, "Achievement is the Harvest," was carried out with the use of an autumn backdrop on the stage and silhouettes of wild ducks and pheasant mobiles hung from the ceiling. The refreshment tables were also tastefully decorated with the harvest theme.

The celebration got underway at 7:00 p.m. with musical entertainment furnished by the Heppner high school orchestra and pantomimes by Sandra Jones and Sharon Keithley.

Mrs. L. A. McCabe, past president of the 4-H leaders council, welcomed the group and Miss Kirms and Mr. Hay presented the following 4-H leaders who gave out 4-H pins and certificates to their club members. (Pins are given for the first, third, fifth and tenth year in club work. Intervening years are recognized by certificates).

Leaders from Heppner area: Mrs. Andy Van Schoiack, Mrs. Merritt Gray, Mrs. Herbert Case, Mrs. Douglas Drake, Mrs. Bob Jones, Mrs. William Rawlins, Marcel Jones, Frank Anderson, and Joe Hay.

From Ione area: Mrs. E. M. Baker, Mrs. L. A. McCabe, Mrs. Louis Carlson, Mrs. Harold Sandler, Mrs. May Ekstrom, and Garry Tullis.

From Lexington area: Mrs. R. H. Davidson, Mrs. Bernard Doherty, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bloodworth, Kenneth Peck, and Roy Martin.

From Pine City area: Weldone Witherrite and Charles Daly.

98% of Voters Go to Polls

Ninety-eight percent of the voters of Morrow county cast their ballots Tuesday in the heaviest voting ever recorded. Unofficial returns from the nine precincts showed national and state trends being carried out by local voters.

Authority for the court to zone the county was turned down, 754 voting yes, and 1009 no.

Three Port Commissioners were elected; Dewey West Jr., Rep., 1181; John R. Krebs, Rep., 1166; Al Lamb, Dem., 1246.

County offices were all uncontested. Milton Beigel, Rep., received 1536 for commissioner; Sadie Parrish, 1818 for county clerk; C. J. D. Bauman, 1871 for sheriff; Sylvia McDaniel, 1742 for county treasurer.

William C. Perry received 1429 for judge of the supreme court; Alfred T. Goodwin, 1357 for judge of the supreme court; William W. Wells, 1595 for judge of the circuit court, sixth district.

In the race for representative in Congress, 2nd congressional district, incumbent Al Ullman won out over his challenger, Ron Phair; Ullman received 1258 votes; Phair, 744.

Incumbent Ben Musa won 962 to 901 for George Stadelman for state senator, 16th senatorial district. For state representative, 22nd district, incumbent Frank Weatherford received 1065 to 844 for challenger Paulen Kaseberg.

On the state level statewide trends were also followed. Howell Appling Jr. received 1082 for secretary of state against 891 for Monroe Sweetland; Howard Belton, 995 for state treasurer against 922 for Ward Cook; Robert Thornton, 1049 for attorney general against 852 for Carl Francis.

John F. Kennedy led Richard Nixon in the county, 1039 to 1002, for President of the United States.

Maurine Neuberger won over Elmo Smith for United States senator for both the long term and the short term, though surprisingly, both received less votes for the long term. The vote was, short term, Neuberger, 1252, Smith, 752; long term, Neuberger, 1084, Smith 743.

Some measures on the ballot were adopted by the county; some overwhelmingly defeated. Vote was as follows:

1. Legislator's term; 1519 yes; 215 no.
2. Daylight time; 573 yes; 1428 no.
3. Urban redevelopment, 761 yes; 791 no.
4. Indictment, 872 yes; 739 no.
5. Revised constitution, 902 yes; 716 no.

11. Financing for home rule counties, 848 yes; 636 no.
12. Government in enemy attack, 1471 yes; 217 no.
13. War veteran's bonds, 1056 yes; 587 no.
14. Personal income tax bill, 332 yes; 1409 no.
15. Billboard control, 683 yes; 1158 no.

CITY OF HEPPNER: A new mayor and five city council members were elected. Al Lamb became mayor with 452 votes; E. E. Gony 448 for four year term on the council; A. L. Case, 455, four year term; John Pfeiffer, 452 for four year term; Conley Lanham, 463 for two year term; Carl Spaulding, 434 for two year term. All were uncontested.

Ted Smith was re-elected city recorder with 486 votes and La Vern Van Marter Jr. re-elected treasurer with 485.

Residents of the rural fire area, which takes in a seven mile radius around Heppner, passed the rural fire measure with 37 yes and 14 no.

HEPPNER BUSINESSES OPEN VETERAN'S DAY

Most business houses will carry on business as usual on Veterans' Day. Decision to remain open on the holiday was reached at a recent meeting of the chamber of commerce.

Banks and the postoffice will close for the legal holiday.

Robert Van Houte, superintendent, announced that all schools of the county will be closed.

Visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Troedson, are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Loss and family from Salem.

Tom Glass Winner At Conservation Speech Contest

Tom Glass, 17, was the first place winner of the speech contest sponsored by the Heppner Soil Conservation District last Friday afternoon at the fair annex.

Tom, the son of county health nurse Velma Glass, will represent the Heppner district at the area contest tomorrow at Hermiston, and if he wins there will enter the finals in The Dalles Nov. 16 at the annual meeting of the Oregon State Soil Conservation Districts.

Other winners were Roger Doherty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Doherty, second; and Tom Green, son of Mrs. Verle Green, third.

Prize money for the three contest winners was donated by the Stone Equipment Co. of Pendleton and The Dalles and presented by Robert Jepson, of the Heppner district.

Contest rules required that the speeches be built around wildlife conservation. The entrants were to tie the subject to soil conservation districts in the state. Subjects chosen by those entering here included one on fish habitat; one on upland game in Oregon; one on habitat of game; and two on the beaver. The judges said that all the contestants did very well and all speeches were well organized and prepared.

Glass spoke on the beaver in the Heppner district and outlined the good and the harm it does. He said that in the right location, in the mountains, the beaver is a real conservationist; but is also a pest to ranchers and farmers of the lowlands. For this reason they are trapped and returned to the mountains.

Ralph Richards, work unit conservationist, said that most of the 57 soil conservation districts in Oregon were sponsoring local district speech contests.

Other contestants reaching the finals in the Heppner district were Linda Van Winkle and Larry Green. All had been coached by Roy Kirk, Heppner high school speech instructor.

Judges were the Rev. John Rydgren, representing the Ministerial Association; Avon Melby, representing the Heppner-Morrow County Chamber of Commerce; and Robert Jepson of the Heppner Soil Conservation District.

Lundell Services Today In Ione Community Church

Funeral services for Ernest Norton Lundell, 45 years, 11 months and 6 days, who died Monday, Nov. 7 in Portland, will be Thursday at the Ione Community Church with Rev. John Rydgren officiating. Interment will be in the Valby cemetery.

Ernest Norton Lundell was born Dec. 1, 1914 at Gooseberry, Oregon and moved to Ione January 5, 1915. He was a member of the Odd Fellow Lodge and the Bunchgrass Rebekah Lodge No. 91. He graduated from the Ione high school in 1932.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Lundell, two brothers, Frank of Milwaukie, and Richard of Pendleton, three sisters, Mrs. Lloyd Morgan, Mrs. Paul Pettyjohn, and Mrs. Cleo Drake all of Ione. Several nieces and nephews and numerous other relatives.

Contributions for the Cancer Fund were suggested by the family.

School Musicians Present Fall Concert Tuesday

Students of the Heppner music department, 175 strong, will appear in the first fall concert at the high school auditorium Tuesday at 8:00 p.m. The varied program will present members of the beginner's band who have had less than two months' instruction, the intermediate band, the grade school honor band and the high school concert group. A massed band of the better players of the whole department will end the program.

Vocal solos by Miss Joyce Mesler, vocal instructor for the elementary music program, will be included. Mrs. Fred Gimbel will be accompanist for Miss Mesler and for the high school chorus.

Arnold Melby, director, urges all music lovers of the area to attend the concert. There is no admission charge.

Program for the evening: Beginners band will present four numbers by Fred Weber; One o'Clock Waltz; Lightly Row; Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star; and Jingle Bells.

The intermediate band will play five numbers by Herman Hummel; Premiere March, Capitol Waltz, Allegiance March, Silvery Waves Waltz, and Red Jackets March.

The grade school honor band will play There's Something About a Soldier by Noel Gay, Jolly Cobbler by Eric Osterling, and Mantilla Overture by Paul Yoder.

The high school chorus will sing Let There Be Music by Frances Williams; Some Enchanted Evening by Richard Rogers; Steal Away by Walton, and You'll Never Walk Alone by Richard Rogers.

The high school concert band will play Colorado Concert March by G. E. Holmes, Jesus Joy of Man's Destring by Johann Sebastian Bach, and Night Beat by Harold Walters.

Final numbers on the program will be by the massed band presenting The Billboard March by John M. Klohr, Overture Eroica by Joseph Skornicka, and Entry of the Gladiators arranged by Harold Walters.

SKI CLUB WORK DAY
Baldy Butte Ski Club will hold a work day Sunday, commencing at 10:00 a.m. at the ski area, according to Kenneth Peck. Bring tools and a sack lunch. Coffee will be furnished. Members plan to work on completion of the warming hut.

City Council Issues Permits

Herman Green submitted a new contract for garbage disposal to the city council at their regular meeting Monday night. The present contract has run out and due to changes desired by Green in the new contract it was turned over to the council committee on sanitation for study. A report and recommendation by the committee will be made at the next regular council meeting.

The Church of the Nazarene was granted a building permit for $30,000 for construction of a new church on Gilmore Street. Church officials showed that provision had been made for off-street parking through purchase of an extra lot and relocating the proposed building further back on the property than originally planned when the first application for building permit was made some time ago.

C. C. Carmichael was granted a building permit for $14,000 for construction of a new residence on Gilmore street, and Bert Corbin, a permit for $700 for construction of a garage on Gilmore street.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Morrison of Guy's Mills, Pa., have been spending the past two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Troedson. Mrs. Morrison and Mrs. Troedson are sisters and had not seen one another for 30 years.

Gribble Starts Feed Processing Operation Here

A new farm service that brings a complete feed processing plant into customers' farmyards has been started in this area by Inland Chemical Service, Inc., of Heppner and Condon.

In announcing the new operation, Lowell Gribble, owner, said that the new "mill on wheels" is expected to be a godsend to local farmers and feeders who want to utilize their own grains and roughages for feeding livestock and poultry. One of the main advantages of the new service, he said, is that it brings the mill to the farmer instead of the farmer having to take his grain to the mill.

The local feed service reports that farmers all across the country have found that it is far more convenient and economical to have their feed formulas processed right on their farms.

By eliminating feed handling, the new mobile farm service saves feeders a tremendous amount of time, labor, and money, according to the equipment owners. Increased emphasis is also placed on better nutrition, enabling farmers to get high production and greater profit from their meat, milk and eggs.

Scout Finance Drive Set For Nov. 21

Plans were made for a one-day fund drive for the local Boy Scouts at a meeting Monday night at the Robert Abrams home.

Date of the drive has been set as Nov. 21.

Abrams said that a group of interested men would cover the Heppner area in an intensive one-day campaign. Money raised is used for the local scouts, a part of the Blue Mountain Council.

Over 50 boys benefit from the scouting program locally.

GOVERNOR'S CONFERENCE DELEGATES TO REPORT

A meeting is being called by the chairman of the Whitehouse Conference on Children and Youth, Mrs. E. Markham Baker, for Nov. 16 in the court house in Heppner starting at 8:00 p.m.

The Morrow County delegates to the Governor's Conference on Children and Youth will give their reports. Also reporting will be the county Juvenile Advisory Council which was recently appointed by Judge Peterson.

Mrs. Baker urges everyone to attend as future plans for the juvenile committee will be discussed.

Fires Extinguished By Local Department

Heppner volunteer firemen responded to two fires in three days during the past week.

Quick action by the fire department workers prevented a major conflagration Saturday night when a house on North Main street caught fire at 9:00 p.m. Cause was thought to be an over-heated oil stove.

The flames were confined to the inside of the building where extensive damage was done to floor coverings, inside finish and furniture. The inside was thought to be a complete loss, according to firemen at the scene, with personal possessions of the family living there completely destroyed.

The house was a frame building of five rooms on two levels. It was owned by the Case estate, and was occupied by Marie Fore. The Lott Electric building is located about one foot from the Case building and witnesses stated that it would also undoubtedly have burned except for quick action on the part of the volunteer firemen.

Flames from the fire were extinguished within 20 minutes but smoldering wood and debris kept two trucks on the fire for an hour and a half. Damage to the building was quite extensive but has not been definitely determined. The building was insured.

About 6:30 Monday evening a chicken house owned by E. W. Moyer caught on fire. It is located close to the creek east of the intersection of Jones and Water Streets. The two trucks answering the call put the fire out in a matter of minutes and prevented its spread in dried grass. Cause of the blaze has not been determined.

Ione Cardinals Meet Prairie City Tomorrow For State Championship

Due to signals being crossed, we failed to obtain the game for last week's paper. Dallas Shockley has written this fine account of the game for us.

The Ione High School Cardinals continued their unbeaten skein by defeating the Prairie City Panthers 53 to 13 in a District Three championship game in Heppner on Oct. 29.

The Cardinals now move into the state semi-finals against the speedy Hereford High School Bulls on Nov. 11 at 2:00 p.m. in Ione.

Kula, Prairie City's shifty halfback, took the opening kickoff and ran through a surprised

Ione team to the Ione 28 where he was caught from behind by Wayne Hams.

The Cardinals held for downs and took over.

They had their first score six plays later and were never headed. The two big plays on the opening drive were a 35-yard pass-lateral from Hams to John Swanson to Jack Crum and the 23-yard touchdown run by Tom Martin.

Hams scored from 12 yards out the next time Ione got the ball and he was followed in the scoring by Crum on a spectacular 91-yard dash; then Hams ran another for 25 yards.

After Kula had scored Prairie City's first touchdown, Swanson hit the end zone on a 23-yard pass from Hams.

Kula also scored Prairie City's other touchdown and passed for an extra point.

Martin scored the next two Ione touchdowns on 75- and 49-yard sprints and Crum concluded Ione's scoring as he burst through the Panther's porous line and ran 80 yards. Francis Rea made good on five extra point tries.

The Ione reserves played most of the fourth quarter and did a commendable job of stopping the Panther attack.
