Boardman News

By MARY LEE MARLOW

Mrs. John Summers was elected president of the Ladies Aid Society of Community Church at an all day meeting Wednesday of last week at the church. Mrs. Lowell Shattuck is vice-president; Mrs. Florence Root, secretary; Mrs. Seth Russell, treasurer.

Mrs. Kenneth Wooten and Mrs. Bob Miller presented the missionary lesson on missions in the Arctic.

Two boxes of clothing were packed to send to the Open Door Children's Home in Hazard, Ky., and bandages were rolled to send to Margery Benedict, missionary in Africa.

A potluck dinner was held at the noon hour. Guests for dinner included Kenneth Wooten and Wayne Downey.

Mrs. Joe Tatone was hostess for the Boardman Tillicum Club at her home Tuesday night of last week. Mrs. LeRoy Minnick, Hermiston, was a guest.

The club announces that the community calendars are ready for distribution.

Proceeds from sale of a cake at a Dutch auction netted $8.20, which will be put in the benevolent fund.

Mrs. Minnick showed fashions to the group. Linda Tatone and Karen Gronquist sang "Playmates", and Jody Tatone sang "Cherry", and played a solo on the chord organ, "Sail Along, Silvery Moon."

The next meeting will be a work meeting on the Christmas doll at the home of Mrs. Dewey West Nov. 29. Christmas gifts for the state hospital at Pendleton are to be brought to the meeting.

The Christmas party will be held at the home of Mrs. LaVern Partlow Dec. 13.

"A Look at a Woman's World" was the subject of the meeting of the County Extension Unit Tuesday of last week at the home of Mrs. Everett Daniels. Leaders were Mrs. Daniels and Mrs. Guy Ferguson. The subject dealt with the different stages of a woman's life from childhood through possible widowhood.

For an "eye opener" Mrs. Ronald Black held a discussion on "Having something to talk about."

Hostesses for the day were Mrs. Arnold Hoffman and Mrs. G. C. Deits, who served lunch at noon.

The Christmas party will be held at the home of Mrs. Nathan Thorpe Dec. 20, with Mrs. Frank Marlow as co-hostess.

Mrs. Claud Coats and Mrs. Florence Root, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Von Seaton of Yamhill and Mrs. Beatrice Scoggins of Arlington to Baker Saturday where they attended a joint meeting of the fourth and fifth districts of the Oregon Branch of the National League of Postmasters at the Baker Hotel. Mrs. Glen Carpenter accompanied them as far as La Grande and will visit at the home of her sister, Mrs. Esther Emmons, until after the Thanksgiving holidays.

Graves To Compete For Conservation Title Of State

John Graves of Hardman, named by the Oregon Wheat Grower's League as Conservation Man of the Year for Morrow County, will receive a special plaque at the Thirty-Third Annual Meeting of the Wheat League in Portland, Dec. 1 through 3.

Graves will receive his plaque at the annual banquet, Friday evening, Dec. 2 at the Benson Hotel.

The state winner will receive the Conservation Man of the Year rotating trophy presented by the Oregonian, which sponsors the competition along with the Wheat League.

This annual competition is open to any farmer in the state who received a substantial portion of his income from wheat farming.

Among the factors considered in judging are: suitability of the cropping system to the land, range practices, crop rotation and extent to which normal erosion is eliminated.

CARDINALS

into the end zone. The try for point was no good and the Cardinals led at the end of the quarter 19 to 0.

The Lakers scored in the second quarter on an 18-yard run by Arnie Meyers and in the third on a 27-yard pass from Bob Van Cleave to Don Epperson. They added one extra point and the score stood at 19 to 13 as the final quarter began.

At this point, the Cardinals ruffled their feathers and wrapped up the State crown. After holding the Lakers for downs on the Triangle Lake 44, the Cardinals sent Crum for 5 yards. Crum again for 7 and a first down, and Swanson on an end-around for 14. From the 18, Crum smashed into the end zone, leaving three prostrate Lakers in his wake. Hams ran the extra point to make the score 26 to 13.

After holding the Lakers for downs following the kickoff, Ione scored again on a 12-yard run by Crum. Ken Klinger ran the extra point for a 33 to 13 score.

The Lakers didn't give up, but the lone defense was not to be broken. Coach Chuck Hudson sent in the subs and they were on the way to another score as the gun sounded to end the game.

There were many Cardinal stars in this championship game. Crum and Swanson carried the offensive load but they received a lot of help from their teammates. Jack and John were joined by Hams, the surest tackler on the squad; Francis Rea, who seemed to be all over the field from his middle linebacker position; Tom Martin, whose blocking and tackling left many a Laker in the embrace of the cold terra firma; Ron Crabtree, who played his best game of the season; Ken Nelson, a rock at defensive end; Les Madden, who played exceptionally well despite a digestive upset; Joe Palmer, who anchored the lone interior; Jerry Davidson, a terror at guard until he received a knee injury in the second quarter, and Ken Klinger, who did a good job as a spot substitute. The lone defense held the vaunted Triangle Lake ground attack to a net gain of 45 yards. Both teams played like champions, but the Lakers didn't have the speed to match the lone forces and that was the deciding factor.

Robert Van Houte, representing the Oregon School Activities Association, presented the runner-up trophy to the Triangle Lake captain and the championship trophy to the lone captains, Francis Rea and Wayne Hams.

The game was played on Coach Hudson's birthday. What more could a coach want?

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ruggies were in Portland on business Monday.
