

NEW BOOKS IN IONE PUBLIC LIBRARY

By THE BOARD OF IONE PUBLIC LIBRARY

The Ione Public Library has added to its list of historical novels, the latest book of Chin-Yang Li entitled "Madame Goldenflower." This is a lively and well-written romance set in China at the time of the Boxer Rebellion in 1900. The tale has two main strands: the regency of the Empress Tzu Hsi whose unwise encouragement of the Boxers in their early attacks on foreigners, especially missionaries, precipitated large scale reprisals by the powers concerned, and the fortunes of the glamorous Madame Goldenflower, once a famous courtesan but now living quietly in Tienstin and planning soon to marry Li Shan, a highly placed government official and adviser to the Empress. Minor characters are well-drawn and the issues of foreign exploitation and the Boxer Rebellion are clearly refined.

For Teen-agers: "Hawaii, Fiftieth State," by Charles A. Borden. Up-to-date, lively in style, and mature in approach, this is an excellent introduction to Hawaii for teenage readers. The author not only pictures the life and customs of Hawaii's diverse racial and religious groups and describes the geography of the islands but also traces the history of the native islanders, analyzes Hawaii's relationship with the U.S. and her struggle for statehood, discusses in detail her principal resources and products, and notes some of the

HOW TO MAKE YOUR HOUSEHOLD DOLLAR GO FARTHER!

- Be sure your house is weather-stripped and insulated. You'll save heat and heating dollars.
- Leaky faucets waste hot water. Usually a new washer will stop this waste.
- Plan to iron a number of things at one time. This is more economical than turning the iron off and on several times a day.
- Today's automatic dishwashers are large enough to do most families' dishes on a once-a-day basis, saving hot water and dishwasher running time.

First National Bank Reports Record Deposits

For the third successive year First National Bank of Oregon has recorded new all-time record high deposits, it was revealed when the December 31, 1960 statement of condition figures were reported to the comptroller of the currency.

Year-end deposits of $880,339,688 were reported, topping the record of $878,642,322 set one year before. The December 31, 1958 record high was $849,167,094.

Loans for the 84 offices amounted to $503,484,790, an increase of $14,526,683 compared to the 1959 year-end figure, but a decrease of $6,789,415 since the October 10 call figure when a record high $510,274,206 was reported.

The Heppner branch of First National reported year-end deposits of $5,202,072 and loans totalling $2,641,194, according to J. H. Bedford, branch manager. At the same time he released comparable totals for the branch for December 31, 1959. On that date, deposits were $5,636,026 and loans were $4,243,187.

Ralph J. Voss, president of First National, indicated that although there was a substantial increase in the number of accounts, the volume of banking activity and the use of bank services at First National during the past year, the "tight money" situation had its effect on balances, keeping the dollar amount down to some degree.

Although a decline in business activity was noted in the late months of the year, Voss said there were many encouraging signs in the state's economy. Average number of persons employed throughout the year was up 1.6 per cent, individual income was up over the previous year, and bank debits were up substantially over a year ago, the banker indicated.

Expansion in growing areas of the state has also been a factor in the bank's progress. Voss declared. During the past year new branches were established in Beaverton, East Salem and the Lloyd Center in Portland, and expanded new branch offices were constructed in Baker, Oak Grove and downtown Portland, where the $3.5 million head office building was dedicated in September.
