CARDINALS WIN AGAIN DEFEAT UMATILLA

The Ione Cardinals continued their winning streak by downing the Umatilla Vikings 53-35 Saturday night on the Umatilla court.

This was the Cardinals fourth league win.

Ione took a first quarter lead and continued this pace throughout the entire game, despite the fine efforts of Umatilla's checking of Francis Rea. Rea was held to his lowest game score with only 3 points. Ione's high point honors went to Swanson with 18, followed by Crabtree with 13.

Dick Green of Umatilla dropped in 12, followed by teammate Thornstad with 11.

As the west end of the Umatilla-Morrow Basketball League stands now Ione has won 4 losing 0; Umatilla—wins 2, losses 2; Stanfield—2 wins to 2 losses; Riverside and Echo both tied also with 1 win and 3 losses.

IONE	UMATILLA
Rea	3 Engle
Crabtree	13 Thornstad
Swanson	18 Hall
Martin	10 Green
Crum	7 Ostrom

NEW BOOKS IN IONE PUBLIC LIBRARY

By Ione Public Library Board

From 1946 to 1950, Elizabeth Vining was tutor to Crown Prince Akihito of Japan. Since then she has made two return visits—the first in 1957, when she traveled widely and visited with the royal family and other friends; the second in April, 1959, when she was the only non-Japanese guest invited to the Crown Prince's wedding. In RETURN TO JAPAN, Mrs. Vining tells the story of her return after almost a decade's absence. She takes the reader with her not only to the royal wedding, but to observe the great political and social changes in Japan and to re-explore the unique charm of life there. A boating party with Prince Akihito, an informal evening with the Imperial Family, conversation with eminent scholars and politicians, an evening in a geisha house, visits to Buddhist monasteries, delightful Japanese inns, a remote mountain school—these are only a few of the experiences which the author describes in this warmly humorous and candid book. The final chapters give Walter Jacobs and Roy Lindstrom who took one of his trucks.

Relatives here received word of the death of Perry Green Hale, a brother of Ida Grabill. Mr. Hale was born at Heppner on April 15, 1872 and passed away Jan. 10 at Yakima. Surviving are Della Druse of Yakima, a sister, Clay Hale of Yakima, a brother, and another brother, Guy, of Roseburg.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Ball of Yakima may be interested to know that Mr. Ball just recently underwent major surgery but is reported improving rapidly. Mrs. Ball also was in the hospital a few days for infection in a foot.

The regular P.T.A. meeting will be Feb. 8 with a panel study on Teens and the Family Team. This will be a discussion of the teens and their problems as related to the family. Some of the subjects to be covered are cars, dating, smoking, drinking, the teenager's family responsibilities.

Sitting in on the panel will be Velma Glass, Bob Abrams

an intimate account of the royal wedding including a wealth of detail about the preliminary and actual ceremonies.

THE CHESS PLAYERS by Frances Parkinson Keyes. In her latest novel, Mrs. Keyes returns to New Orleans, the setting of several very successful books she has written, but the scene shifts, with the education and travels of its hero, Paul Morphy, to Mobile, Boston, New York, Richmond, Cuba, Spain, London and Paris. Its climax is reached in the French capital during the thrilling period when the Confederacy was represented by its brilliant Commissioner, John Silldell. Paul Morphy was the scion of two outstanding Creole families. His paternal grandfather, Diego Morphy, had been Spanish Consul, first in Charleston and then in New Orleans; his maternal grandfather, Joseph Le Carpentier commonly called the "double-tongued," was a successful French auctioneer. Not only does Paul Morphy emerge as a vital and appealing figure in these pages; we see such great Civil War leaders as Beauregard, Benjamin and Silldell, together with their families, in their human relation to him as lifelong friends and dramatic associates. Mrs. Keyes has woven fact and fiction together in a fascinating pattern, to bring these events and their intrigues before us. At the same time, she has given her story the romantic glow on which her millions of readers depend.
