

Scholarships Are Set Up By Newspapers

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene—Three new $200 journalism scholarships, supported by the Oregon Newspaper Publishers Association, have been announced by Charles T. Duncan, dean of the University of Oregon School of Journalism.

The scholarships are financed under a plan presented to the ONPA at the annual Oregon press conference in February. The plan was unanimously endorsed by the board of directors and has since been widely supported by member newspapers.

A total of 37 newspapers (nine dailies and 28 weeklies and semi-weeklies) pledged their support immediately when the plan was presented.

"The immediate response was most enthusiastic," said Duncan, "and there is every reason to think that further pledges of support will enable us to offer at least one more scholarship per year and possibly two more."

"Individually the members of ONPA have always been exceptionally cooperative with the School of Journalism," he said.

"Several of them have been very generous with their financial as well as their moral support. Now, for the first time, we can offer scholarships that represent the press of Oregon collectively. There is no better way of telling young people interested in journalism that the newspapers of their state are interested in them too."

The plan calls for an annual contribution by ONPA members, on a pro-rata basis, to the Eric Allen Memorial Fund. The contributions are earmarked for scholarship purposes.

SKI TRAILS

By KEN PECK

Bob Pfeiffer's departure left the ski club without a columnist which gives me the chance to fill in with ski news and tips. I will try to make the column a weekly feature through the ski season.

Checking the calendar shows that the season is almost spent and a look to the mountains confirms it. Although snow storms pass through almost every day there is little chance of establishing a snow pack at the ski area this late in the year. However, for diehard skiers who don't mind a little work and climbing there is plenty of snow on the tops of the mountains.

Sunday last we measured 37 inches of snow at the proposed Arbuckle Mountain site right at the road. So there is still enough snow around for some spring skiing.

It seems we are not the only community plagued by lack of snow. In Wisconsin, Mount Tadmor ski area estimates the lack of business due to no snow cost the community over a million dollars. The East's major areas suffered the same and over all the country the season has been a big flop. As close to home as the Government Camp area little snow has fallen where normally they commence skiing before Christmas and run into April. Generally, however, Northwest areas as Mt. Baker, Stevens Pass, White Pass, Timberline, and Mt. Bachelor have registered high snowfall and their business has not suffered.

It has been hard to sell skiing with no snow to ski on, but come next year Baldy Butte Club should have plenty of that old powder. The snow at the proposed new site should be drier. The club will endeavor to gain new members thru the spring and summer and I wish to make

LEXINGTON LIVESTOCK

Our fourth meeting was held at the Nichols home on March 13 at 7:15 p.m. Our new member is Louella Roark.

HEPPNER DEADEYES

The Heppner Deadeyes were formed on February 10 at the Gilliam & Bisbee building. We hold our meetings on Fridays at 7:30 to 8:30.

There are nine members in our club. They are Doug and David Anderson, Tony Doherty, Greg and Mike Pierce, Mike Sweek and Gary Struthers. Our leaders are Bob Booth and Sam Negal.

Our club officers are: president, Doug Anderson; vice president, Greg Perice; secretary, Tony Doherty; and reporter, Gary Struthers.

We are learning the Ten Commandments of Hunting Safety, and the parts of a rifle. The visitors were Gene Pierce, Paul Jones, Joy Hay and Greg Sweek. Reporter, Gary Struthers.

It clear that this is a family sport. The fee to join is so low that I can't mention the figure. And to kick off the season next fall we plan to have a style and equipment show with the possibility of movies of Squaw Valley Olympic races.

The club would like to operate a bus to the ski area each Saturday next season in order that more of the school age people can get in some skiing. We plan to expand our ski instruction. Maybe we could even arrange for some fun races and night skiing. The year's program can be as good or as poor as we wish to make it.

For those of you who know what you want in the way of equipment and ski wear now is a good time to buy because most sporting goods dealers are now having their annual sales. Buy good skis, release bindings, and boots.

See you on the mountain. —K. P.

Bill Nichols announced that field day was on May 20.

We had a film on how to save little pigs. We discussed why we have to use heat lamps and also discussed sanitation.

Our next meeting will be on April 10 at the Frink home.

Reporter, Mary Nichols.
