THE GOLDWATER MANIFESTO

Senator Barry Goldwater of Arizona has introduced in Senate a statement, appearing in the Congressional Record of January 11, 1961, which is what American conservatives have been waiting for and which forthrightly reflects their convictions.

It is a "Manifesto," setting forth principles, which he and conservative associates in the Congress are presenting in the belief that, upon these principles, conservative candidates can run and be elected.

The following extracts give some idea of the character of the statement:

"We believe that stimulating the national pride is even more important than increasing our national prestige . . ."

"We think it is high time that we made clear to the rest of the free world that we are at least as necessary to their survival as they are to ours, and, if we are not afraid to speak the truth, even more so."

"The free world is living under a stifling pall of fear—fear of the Soviet Union."

"Neutrality, coexistence, appeasement, pacifism, unilateral disarmament and suspension of nuclear testing are all products of this enervating fog of fear that smothers the free world and paralyzes its will to engage in strong and decisive action."

"Reliance on ourselves in the development of our foreign policy."

"Where opposition movements to Communist regimes exist, whether inside or outside the Soviet and Soviet satellite nations, encouragement and concrete aid should be given to those movements publicly and proudly."

"The United States must remain fully and effectively armed."

NO AMERICAN SHOULD FAIL TO READ THIS MANIFESTO.

30 YEARS AGO

From the files of the GAZETTE-TIMES, March 19, 1931

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Adams, who have been spending the winter at their Portland home, returned to Heppner by train.

taken a franchise for running a daily stage between Pendleton and Arlington by way of Heppner.

John Brosnan, sheepman of the Lena district, was in Heppner on Saturday, saying lambing was now progressing under favorable conditions.

in town from Lexington. They reported the spring plowing is progressing well and is in charge of their son, Edward.

TO THE EDITOR.

Dear Sir:

I have felt now for several years that it should be brought to the attention of the voters that many people should become better informed on the proper method in marking a ballot.

We, on the counting boards of school, general and primary elections, find some ballots so marked that it is impossible to count them. Since the rules of the election boards, as in many other instances these days, are so strict it is almost impossible at times for the counting board to know the voter's real intent.

I feel that since voting is a God-given privilege in this great country of ours, and since people take the time and effort to go to the polls, they should become aware before time of the proper way to cast the ballot. If they are not sure of the proper procedure they may ask at the polls or may find out at the county clerk's office.

I would like to add, as it will only take an extra minute of your time, to be sure of the proper method. If in doubt, it would be worth while to inquire of the board members.

Sincerely,
Delpha Jones

Dear Sir:

In my collection I have a 25-cent Heppner Sheepskin Script No. 3165 issued June, 1933.

Is there a story about this script that could be sent to me? I do not find it listed in Wooden Nickels or any other publication. How many were issued, were they readily accepted by the townspeople, whose brain child was it or any item that one could talk about when showing it.

I am enclosing a stamped, addressed envelope for your use if any story is available. I have no money for research—just a collector's curiosity.

Thanking you,

H. M. MARESKA

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Wildman:

Thank you and all your employees who were so kind to us and showed us the paper being put out. We all thoroughly enjoyed it and are very glad you let us come up.

We have now gone through the Morrow County Creamery, the museum and the library, the First National Bank, the courthouse, your newspaper, and now we are going through the REA building.

It is lots of fun, only we are running out of places to go.

Again thank you and all your people who were so very patient with us.
