Federal Land Bank Interest Rate Reduced Effective April 1

The interest rate on new land bank loans has been reduced to 5 1/2 percent, B. C. Telyea, manager of the Federal Land Bank Association of Pendleton, reported this week. The reduction became effective April 1.

Telyea said that borrowers with 6 percent loans already on the books of the Federal Land Bank of Spokane will benefit from the reduction. The bank, for which the Pendleton association makes and services loans, is advising its 6 percent borrowers that, until further notice, the 5 1/2 percent rate will be applied to their loans commencing April 1.

"This voluntary interest rate reduction on outstanding loans represents an interest savings at the rate of $325,000 annually to 4,500 farmers and ranchers with 6 percent loans in Idaho, Montana, Oregon, Washington and Alaska, the territory served by the Spokane bank," said Telyea.

The association manager pointed out that the interest rate reduction reflects an improvement in the general money situation and carries out the policy of the land bank system to extend credit at the lowest cost possible consistent with sound business practices.

"The bank's interest rate," said Telyea, "is geared to the cost of money in the investment markets where the bank sells bonds to raise funds with which to make its loans."

The Pendleton association serves Morrow and Umatilla counties.

Remember when your budget winced at the prospect of calling long distance?

(Today it takes just pin-money to call across the country)

This little drawing-room drama took place a long time ago. Grandma has just received a newsy, question-filled letter from her grandchildren. She's delighted—and anxious to hear their voices—but she just can't bear to pick up the phone and call.

You really couldn't blame her. Thirty-five years ago, a Long Distance call took a generous bite out of the family budget, and a few nibbles out of the nervous system too. For example, if Granny wanted to call person-to-person to Philadelphia, it would cost her nearly $20 for 3 minutes—or about 12¢ a second! Then, while she shouted to make herself heard and wondered what to say next, the other half of her mind was thinking: "Goodness gracious—time's up—what have I done?"

Happily, this kind of nonsense went out with Hitching Old Dobbin to the Shay. Today, talk is cheap and calling Long Distance is easy. Person-to-person to Philadelphia is $3 plus tax, and only $1.75 plus tax for station-to-station during the off-hours.

Modern grandmothers know how wonderful it is to call their grandchildren often. Today's rates make Long Distance just a convenient way to have a family reunion.

If you haven't called Long Distance in the last thirty-five years, you're in for a surprise. Now it takes 66 seconds or less to reach anywhere in the U.S. There's no need to shout (or even talk loud). It's less expensive than you think, and you'll get more than your money's worth. Why don't you call your grandchildren—or someone else's—right now?

LONG DISTANCE RATES ARE LOW

Here are some examples:

Klamath Falls to Phoenix	$1.20
Astoria to Minneapolis	1.40
Portland to Chicago	1.50
Eugene to Ann Arbor	1.65
Medford to Atlanta	1.65
Salem to Washington, D.C.	1.75

Station-to-station rates for the first 3 minutes, after 8 P.M. and all day Sunday. (Add the 10¢ World War II Federal Excise Tax still in effect!)

IN AMERICA'S BIGGEST, TOUGHEST 1961 ECONOMY CONTEST...

Which man drove Rambler?

In the most realistic test of all-around gasoline economy ever staged—the NASCAR sanctioned 1961 Pure Oil Economy Trials at Daytona—Rambler won three trophies, held by driver Les Viland in the photo above.

No other make won more than one award... most won none.

Unlike other runs that put a premium on feather-footed driving, the Pure Oil Economy Trials closely parallel your own everyday driving experience.

Every U.S.-built production car is eligible. None are arbitrarily barred, as in some runs. In 1961, 145 cars representing all 5 U.S. makers competed.

Rambler American Custom with overdrive beat them all to win the cherished Overall Winner Trophy and captured the Class 6 trophy in competition with Falcon, Corvair, Lark and Tempest 4. In fact, it took the first 6 places and 8 of the first 10.

And Ambassador V-8 by Rambler won its Class, swept the first 8 places and 9 of the first 10 spots.

With speeds up to 65, and averaging more than 40 M.P.H., the winning Rambler American made 14 complete stops, shifted through the gears 15 times while circling the 3.7 mile course, and still averaged 26.86 miles per gallon!

This is the second straight year Rambler won the Pure Oil Economy Trials.

Want more proof of Rambler value? Then see your Rambler dealer. You'll find top gas economy is just part of your savings. Rambler costs less to buy, is voted most trouble-free by owners, has top resale value.

Rambler dealers sell twice as many compact cars per dealer as most other dealer groups. So, you get a better deal... on the best of the compacts. Rambler—world standard of compact car excellence.
