A walking tour of lone is in the schedule of the Landscaping Tour planned for May 11 by the landscaping steering committee composed of Mrs. Fredrick Martin, Mrs. Edith Nicholson, Mrs. William Rawlins of lone, and Mrs. Helen Cox and Mrs. Ralph Thompson, Heppner.

A few months ago these women in the Heppner, lone and Lexington communities reviewed all the homes that would illustrate landscaping and plantings. The list got so long that the group decided to have a spring tour of the lone community and a fall tour of the Heppner and Lexington areas.

We are sure that all garden lovers will find this tour interesting and educational and will promote better lawns all over the county.

Visits to the "Make & Model" 4-H club of Mrs. Louis Carlson's lone; and The "Spoonlickers" lead by Mrs. Douglas Drake, Heppner, were enjoyed by your home agent this past week.

We found Jean Martin, Joan Turner, and Carole Ann Palmer—all lone high school seniors—planning wool sheath dresses as their 4-H project this year. Betty Carlson has spent several meetings showing them such techniques as lining skirts, making bound buttonholes, gussets in sleeves, and belt making. Betty has the distinction of having five 10-year 4-H members in her club. This is a "first" in Morrow county.

The Spoonlickers with such members as Cheryl Bellinbrook, Patti Collins, Susan Drake, Kitty O'Hara, Kathy Ray, Jean Stockard, and Diane Warren showed their mothers how accomplished they were when they served a chicken dinner on Sunday, April 16, in the Methodist church basement.

These girls are enrolled in their fourth year of foods, "Food Adventurers" and are showing good progress under the dedicated leadership of Grace Drake.

Any interested persons may join the tour. Present plans are to begin at 9:00 a.m. at the Harold Dobyns home at Rhea Creek Junction and to proceed to the country homes of Gottfried Herman, W. E. Melena, Cecil Thorne, and Carl Trosten during the morning. Each host will explain the types of trees, shrubs, plants and flowers they have found successful in this area.

Each person will furnish his own sack lunch which will be eaten at the Community church basement in lone. Lone extension unit members will serve coffee and tea.

During the noon hour a film, "Basic Techniques for Home Landscaping," will be presented. The walking tour of lone will begin soon after that and will include the yards of Edith Nicholson, Vic Rietmann, Oscar Lundell, Fredrick Martin, W. R. Akers, Clarence Holtz, and others if time permits.

We suggest that all interested Heppner people meet out at the fair grounds at 8:30 a.m. on the day of the tour so we can conserve on cars.

AND IT'S TIME TO SEE US ABOUT YOUR POLICY . . . RIGHT NOW!

"Liberty Under Law The American Way"

By MICHELLE MORRISON

In the United States individuals are always considered innocent of any crime until proved guilty. No matter who a person is, he is entitled to qualified legal counsel, and in most cases may appeal decisions and carry cases to the Supreme Court for final decisions.

Recently our daily newspapers have been covering a murder case which was in its third trial before a jury reached a decision, and although the defendants have now been found guilty, the case has been in the courts since 1959, and has cost the state thousands of dollars. This points up the fact that justice is not always swift but thorough, and mistrials are called any time the slightest irregularities occur.

When the Constitution of the United States was drawn, the seventh amendment declared that persons accused of crimes shall have the right to trial by jury. This is one of the rights that we enjoy in a true democracy, along with our freedom of speech, press, and religion.

The American people make their own laws and have free elections to appoint representa-

"Liberty Under Law The American Way"

By THERESA ESTER

Liberty under law the American way to me is security and fairness in judgment by the law. It means the protection of ourselves and fellow citizens against everything from murder to negligence by another party.

Society has established a set of rules or laws governing our dealings with one another. These laws are designated to make our life enjoyable and smooth.

Many people do not understand the importance of law and the part it plays in their everyday living. Too many times ignorance and lack of understanding leave the consumer wide open for anybody to take advantage of. It is to a person's advantage to find out what his rights are by law.

There are several different kinds of laws, constitutional laws, statute laws, and common laws. Each has its own duties to administer them. If laws become outmoded our people can amend them to fit modern government. We enjoy the most flexible rights and liberties in the world.

These are some of the reasons why, in my opinion, liberty under law the American way is the only way and why we should strive to preserve the freedom and justice that our forefathers provided in the Constitution of the United States of America.

Planners Meet

Program planners from each of the eight extension units in the county will meet on Thursday, April 27, at the Pine City school to make a final decision on the seven family living topics that will make up the 1961-62 home economics program for Morrow county. A list of the project lessons chosen will be released soon after that. We are hoping that more women will avail themselves of these family living courses which in reality are like a class at Oregon State University conducted in your community.

The common law, which is most important for us is derived from decisions of judges upon generally accepted customs and precedents.

We, the people of America, are governed by laws, but we also enjoy the privilege of freedom. Freedom of speech, press, and religion are the greatest assets a person can possess.

All nations are governed by laws, but the same freedom does not exist as in America. Dictatorship has laws but people cannot make their own laws like we can.

To have real freedom, there must be laws to control and protect the rights of individual citizens. Liberty and freedom are the most valued rights a person can have. As Patrick Henry once said, "Give me liberty, or give me death."

Mrs. Ray Drake fell Tuesday at her home while covering her fruit trees, breaking her heel. She is to stay off of her feet for six weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Darley and Bernice of Seattle visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. James Wilhelm and family.

Best Bank for the Family "Purchasing Agent"

In the busy life of the family "home manager" the checkbook has become a very important aid. It keeps her funds safe from loss, and provides a record of every purchase she makes to keep her family happy and comfortable.

There are good reasons why most Oregon homemakers keep their checking accounts at First National Bank of Oregon. Branch convenience, quick service, and ready acceptability of the familiar pink First National checks are some of them. But even more important is the personal interest that makes this your Family Bank. You'll enjoy meeting with courteous, friendly neighbors every time you visit your nearby branch of First National Bank of Oregon.
