BUCKET SEATS ALONE DO NOT A MONZA MAKE

■ Gee! ■ Little did we know, when we introduced the Corvair Monza last year, that we were starting a Big Thing. We just thought it would be pleasant if you could buy a car that treats you, the driver, like you want to be treated. ■ The bucket seats, of course, are the most obvious evidence of our desire to please you. But they're not the most important thing. No sir. What's really vital is the way a Monza handles—something nobody in the U.S. has yet copied. Or can copy. Because Corvair is the only rear-engined car made in this country, and you know what that means: steering light as thistle-down. (You even park this one more easily, it steers so briskly.) Beautifully balanced braking—the car stays level even under panic braking, which we hope you'll never have to do. Traction and more traction, so you don't become a stick-in-the-mud. The kind of cornering that's sheer joy to experience. ■ You get more: a fully independent suspension that blots out road shocks before they can rattle you. Clean, crisp styling. Thoroughgoing economy, from purchase price to operating cost. ■ You're not going to be satisfied with bucket seats alone, are you?

Portland Public Docks Continues Cargo Lead!

For the fourth consecutive year Portland Harbor leads all Pacific Coast seaports in the movement of dry cargo tonnage.

Figures compiled by the U. S. Department of Commerce show Portland in first place with 2,606,650 tons, 244,200 tons ahead of second place Los Angeles and 443,250 tons ahead of third place Seattle, for the calendar year 1959.

Continued expansion of Portland Public Docks, assured by approval of a recent 9½ million dollar bond issue, is now underway to further increase cargo flowing through the port and to reduce shippers' costs.

Rapid transportation to Portland from all inland points by rail, truck or barge, is unsurpassed. This, coupled with the lower freight rates of the water-grade route of the Columbia River, has helped Portland gain prominence as a leading world seaport.

For information about Portland Public Docks write or call Sales-Traffic Department: 3070 N. W. Front Ave., CA 8-8231, Portland, Oregon
