Attention red-blooded Oregonians: Enter the world's easiest, most rewarding contest! Everybody wins—everybody helps Oregon. PACIFIC NORTHWEST BELL (spurred into action by the continuous taunts and jibes of misguided out-of-staters) proudly announces its

WHY-I'M WILD-ABOUT- OREGON CONTEST

WITH DOZENS OF PRIZES OF GREAT (SENTIMENTAL) VALUE

This is it, fellow Oregonians! Too long have we outdoors-living, even-tempered, hard-working, lovable Oregonians put up with belittling questions from misinformed Easterners and Californians and Texans. (Nyah to them with their bowler hats, flowered shirts and cowboy boots!)

We're tired of explaining why we live in Oregon. Now we're going to answer their questions once and for all. Now we're going to form a united front and compile state-wide statistics to really tell the world about Oregon!

Here's a contest to prove once and for all that there are undeniable advantages to living and working and visiting and locating new industry in Oregon. Here's the one contest you can enter just for the sheer, unselfish, state-serving satisfaction of it (not to mention the chance to win undying fame, glory, and a choice prize or two).

Here's how you can help. Write us a letter in 200 words or less (ten words could win it) telling why YOU are wild about Oregon. No box tops to tear off; no corner grocers to send in; no snappy slogans to struggle over. Just a good, simple, honest letter telling us why you prefer our great state.

AND LOOK AT THESE FABULOUS (?) PRIZES:

equivalent from any point in the 50 United States or Canada to any point in Oregon.

* 1st class room accommodations for a period of seven days at any Oregon hotel, motel or resort of the guests' choice.

* During this seven days, a choice of one side-trip to any point in the Pacific Northwest. (For example: Mt. Hood, Crater Lake, Oregon Seacoast, Oregon Coast, Mt. Rainier, or Seattle's Space Age World's Fair, etc.)

* $25 per day extra spending money.

* Last, and certainly least, Grand Winner may even be asked to smile at a local Chamber of Commerce luncheon, or appear on television, radio, judge a beauty contest, kiss a few babies, etc. (Lindying fame will most certainly be yours.)

12 ASSISTANT GRAND LEADERS: In addition to the Grand Winner for the State, there will be 12 Assistant Grand Leader awards and each will receive a framed certificate as:

1. ASSISTANT GRAND LEADER OREGON BOOSTER CORPS

* Plus $100 worth of merchandise from any Oregon merchant.

* Plus, free ticket package for the whole family to Century 21, Seattle's World's Fair.

* Plus, local civic coronation and other fun.

PRIZES FOR EVERY CONTESTANT: Every entrant will receive a genuine embossed, wallet-sized membership card, signed by the Governor, certifying that you are an official, outdoors-living, even-tempered, hard-working, lovable, well-informed member of the Oregon Booster Corps.

(If you're not well-informed, the back of the card will carry all of the vital statistics about Oregon, suitable for memorizing.)

PLUS: Every entrant will receive a book "Visitor's Passport", signed by the Governor (whose hand is asking by now), to send to misguided out-of-staters so they will be able to cross the border into Oregon. (It, too, will contain all the vital statistics so they'll be duly impressed.)

HERE ARE TWO (BAD) SAMPLE ENTRIES:

#1—"Back in the days when I was stuck in New York, I used to suffer shooting pains, but now, boy! do I ever love the hunting, sailing, and beautiful scenery around here."

#2—"I'm wild about Oregon because I like to breathe the clear, fresh air off Mt. Hood better than carbon monoxide fumes and old Chanel #5. Besides, I've taken 5 strokes off my golf game."

HERE ARE THE RULES.

1. Complete the statement, "I'm Wild About Oregon because..." in 200 words or less.
2. No official entry blank required. Any decent piece of blank paper will do, and neatness doesn't matter a whit. Print your name and address on your entry.
3. Contest open to any Oregonian, except employees of Pacific Northwest Bell, its advertising agency, and their immediate families. (These people may enter to swell the returns but they won't win.)
4. Contest open to all age groups.
5. Letters judged on sincerity, interest and originality. Judges' decision is the last word.
6. All entries and ideas therein become the property of Pacific Northwest Bell and will not be returned, so make a carbon.
7. Mail your entry with your return telephone bill envelope, or directly to "Why I'm Wild About Oregon" Contest, Pacific Northwest Bell Telephone Co., Room 861, 509 S.W. Oak St., Portland 4, or drop it off at any of our local telephone business offices.
8. Eligible entries must be postmarked or received before midnight, October 31, 1961.
9. Winners will be officially notified (by phone, of course) by December 1, 1961. Good luck!

Why is Pacific Northwest Bell "Wild About Oregon?" We of Pacific Northwest Bell (6,000 outdoors-living, even-tempered, hard-working telephone folk) are proud to be Oregonians. We're out to do all we can as a public service to help the Chambers of Commerce and the State and local governments to make Oregon the most talked-about, prosperous, industry-minded, traveled vacationland in the nation.

To prove it, our gimlet-eyed statistician, Gus, is going to tabulate all your reasons into an official Oregon Booster Corps Document. These will be distributed to the Chambers of Commerce, State's tourist agencies, other state and local government offices, newspapers, radio and TV stations to help them tell the world about you-know-where.

But enough of this chatter! Get those entries in the mail. Be the first one on your block to be a card-carrying member of the Oregon Booster Corps. Let's stop apologizing for what we're not.
