

250 Due for FHA Meet

The Eastern Oregon district meeting of Future Homemakers of America will bring approximately 250 high school girls to Heppner Saturday. The annual meeting is always held in the home city of the presiding officer. Libby Van Schoelack, Heppner, was chosen chairman at the meeting last year.

Assisting Libby with arrangements are the members of the local FHA chapter, and the Milton-Freewater chapter, home of Sandy Atkins, district secretary. Girls from 18 chapters of FHA will hear national and state officials of their organization give reports and addresses.

Mary Virginia Speckhart, La Grande, national treasurer and state president of FHA; Nancy Kelly, Banks, state vice president of projects; and Sandra Harshman, Heppner, state parliamentarian, will participate in the program. Kathy Hicks, Buhl, Idaho, will speak on Civil Defense. She ran against Mary Virginia Speckhart for national treasurer and was defeated by only one vote at the convention last summer.

State FHA Advisor, Miss Paula Goodwin, Salem, will give one of the welcome addresses. Others will be by William Hill, vice president of the local chapter of Future Farmers of America, Student Body President and FHA District Chairman, Libby Van Schoelack, Principal Gordon Pratt, and Heppner Mayor Al Lamb.

Dr. Francis Nickerson, son of Mrs. Grace Nickerson, Heppner, will give the main address, speaking on "You Write the Script." Dr. Nickerson grew up in Heppner. He is now secretary to the state board of higher education at Eugene.

"You Write the Script" is also the theme of the meeting and will be further developed in group sessions of panel discus-sister, Mrs. Virginia Thompson of Klamath Falls and a brother, Blaine Broker of Pendleton. He was born in Pendleton. Funeral arrangements are pending.

Johnson is son of Emil H. Johnson of Meacham and Mrs. Alice Hunt of Albany. He is also survived by a sister, Betty Johnson. The young man was born in Spokane. Folsom's funeral home, Pendleton, is in charge of arrangements.

Haddock, who is regularly employed by the Forest Service as an engineer was transferred here from Pendleton in June. Milum was hired Aug. 4, Parsons Sept. 19, Johnson in April, and Finley Oct. 9.

Bowlsby was killed when the pickup he was driving left the road and flipped into Chapin creek 30 miles south of Heppner on highway 207 Sunday night. This was Morrow county's first traffic fatality of 1961.

There apparently were no witnesses to the accident, which was reported about midnight to the sheriff's office by a passing motorist.

Sheriff C. J. D. Bauman said the car had apparently turned a complete "flip-flop" before crossing the road and ending in the creek.

The victim was pinned under the left front wheel, face up, in four inches of water.

Dr. Tibbles said Bowlsby apparently died instantly from extensive internal injuries. The accident time was placed by officers at about 10 p. m.

Services for James A. Bowlsby 45, Kinzua, were held Thursday, (today) at 2:00 p. m. at Reynolds-Niswonger Funeral Home in Bend. Interment was in Memorial Garden cemetery at Bend.

Bowlsby was born March 29, 1916 in Billings, Mont. He was employed at Camp Five by Kinzua Corporation.

Survivors are two sisters, Anna E. Davis, Bend; and Ida B. Hedwall, Scappoose; and brother, Eugene, of Bend.

sions and buzz sessions. A chairman and a secretary for the district will be elected and installed during the afternoon program.

A noon luncheon at the Catholic parish hall will carry out an Italian theme. Decorations will be in red and white, and Italian food will be served. Heppner chapter mothers will put on the luncheon under the chairmanship of Mrs. Lincoln Nash, Mrs. Everett Harshman and Mrs. Ralph Richards. The 8th grade girls will serve at the luncheon.

The committee reports about 60 girls have indicated they will be here overnight Friday to attend. Registration begins at 8:30 a. m. Saturday, in the elementary school multi-purpose room. Housing for them has been arranged, but any member of the public who can supply housing for any of the six men bus drivers who will bring them to town is urged to get in contact with Libby Van Schoelack.

School Building Ideas Discussed

bond tax in lone has expired; a county road tax has expired; and the special school levy will expire in 1963, he pointed out. He said that the school building committee had recognized that an additional building is necessary in Heppner.

Plans to use the present high school in addition to the elementary school for the grade school program were explained. It was stressed that the two schools will take care of the grade school needs for the present population.

Ed Dick, Jr., member of the district school board, said that it had always been the plan of the board to build a new high school at Heppner as soon as the four year serial levy runs out in 1963.

"This program is nothing new, only the timing is stepped up," he said. He stressed that the school district board will not present a plan for building at the present time but "would be very receptive to such a suggestion."

Mr. Dick indicated that while the PTA discussion centered on the building needs of Heppner, other communities also had building problems which the board had under consideration, the 4-year serial levy would take care of some of these but not all would be solved without additional financing.

"We have a good hospital in our county, good roads, and most everything else is in pretty good shape," Anderson said. I think our schools are our weakest link, I'd like to see the crowded condition remedied, I'd like to see this school built to give our students room to learn," he added.

Al Lamb, panel moderator, stated that in his opinion the longer the building program is put off, the more it will cost.

Nona Sowell and Raymond French, panel members, brought out much of the subject with their thoughtful questions. Other questions from the floor were answered by panel members and school officials.

President Robert Hopper led a short business meeting preceding the program. Fund raising projects as suggested by the ways and means committee were adopted for the year and a budget presented by the budget committee was approved.

Refreshments were served in the cafeteria by eighth grade room mothers. Mrs. Max Barclay, Mrs. Herbert Case, Mrs. Lewis McDonald and Mrs. Paul Webb.

Bull Prairie Dam Near Completion; 34-Acre Lake Set

Construction of the Bull Prairie dam is almost completed to catch winter rains and thus create a 34 acre lake for swimming, fishing and camping facilities approximately 45 miles south of Heppner, according to Sam Miller, Forest ranger in charge of the Heppner district.

The lake has been created from Dingle-Johnson funds provided by the State Game Commission and is in the Heppner district of the Umatilla National forest. Construction of camping sites, toilet facilities, and access road have been by the Forest Service. The lake will be stocked with fish by the Game Commission.

Topography of the area is generally level or slightly sloping. The land is timbered with park-like stands of mature Ponderosa pine. The elevation is about 3,900 feet above sea level.

The 47 acres of recreational area, exclusive of the water area, cost an estimated $141,000 to develop. A donation of 20 acres of private land from Kinzua Corporation made it possible to contain the whole area on National Forest land.

Included in the area will be a swimming site, a boat launching ramp, trailer parks, camp grounds and picnic areas.

No power driven boats will be permitted on the new lake to compete with fishermen, Miller said, and swimming will be in a different area than prime fishing.

The access road is three miles off the Heppner-Spray highway and the Forest Service has estimated that an expected 5,000 to 15,000 visits yearly will be made to the location by persons seeking recreation.

Soil Field Day, Judging Contest Set For District

Supervisors of the Heppner Soil Conservation District have planned a soil field day and judging contest for Thursday, October 26. The event will be in the form of an informational affair with the contest following the educational program on soils. Farm and city organizations have been invited to enter teams. The Heppner-Morrow County Chamber of Commerce and the Farmers Union have reported to the county agent's office that they will have teams. Other organizations are now in the process of getting theirs together.

Secretary, N. C. Anderson, says the event will get under way at the Fair Annex building at the county fair grounds at 1:00 p. m. Thursday, October 26. If the weather should take a turn from the nice sunny days we have been having, some time will be spent at the annex going over the qualities of soils. If the weather is nice, the group will go directly to the soil pits which will be located close to Heppner.

Howard Cushman, extension soil specialist, OSU, will be in charge of the soil pits, explanations of soil types and the judging contest. Everyone is invited to attend and to judge either as a team or as an individual.

Graveside Services Held For John Hughes

Graveside services for John Patrick Hughes, 79, a native of Heppner, were held at the Heppner Masonic cemetery Tuesday. Mr. Hughes died in a nursing home in Salem, Oct. 13 following a three months illness.

He was born near Heppner on March 14, 1882, the second son of John and Mary Hughes, who came to Morrow county in 1880. He attended the district school near his home and graduated from Heppner high school in 1903. In 1907 he and his brother, Matt, took over the management of their father's farm north of Heppner. They broke up the grassland, raised wheat, and fed cattle in the winter on hay they raised on the bottom land.

In the fall of 1911, Hughes entered the University of Oregon medical school, which he attended for four years. In 1923 he returned to the old home farm after his father's death, and operated the farm until Sept. 1925. He then moved to Bruce, Alberta, Canada, where he farmed until 1946. Then retired and moved to Salem.

Hughes was a great sportsman and was active in the Izaak Walton League. He is survived by his widow, Frances, Salem; one step-son, George Zeuske, Salem; two grandchildren; one brother, Joseph J. Hughes, Heppner; three
