HOW TIME flies each week! Guess I must be busy! Speaking of time, what about the time your son or daughter comes home from dancing lessons to show you the dance steps! Makes you feel sort of old and a little awed at the same time, 'cause it seems only yesterday they started school.

TACIE PARKER was a guest of honor at the OES Social club Saturday afternoon. She was presented a going away gift from Ruth chapter, Order of Eastern Star. Marjorie Worden and Lois Hunt were hostesses for the afternoon play and used attractive Halloween and fall decorations about the room. Prizes were small pumpkins filled with miniature pumpkins with candy or coins inside each. The winners, Beulah Mankin, high in pinochle, and Lota Tibbles, high in bridge, discovered that all was not candy as they generously offered it to the guests! Not all treats are edible!

I ENJOYED a very nice visit with Mr. and Mrs. William Cunningham last week, interviewing them for their anniversary story. We did much reminiscing, as I especially remember Mr. Cunningham stopping at my folks' place to eat his lunch many times when he ran the county maintainer. And of course, we got to visit with him! In the course of the conversation, we got around to ages. Mr. Cunningham is 77 and Mrs. Cunningham 71, not years old but young!

FAY FERGUSON entertained the What's Trump bridge club Wednesday afternoon. They initiated a new idea for trial with the club meeting at 11:00 a. m., a noon luncheon and continued play until mid-afternoon. Making up two tables of play were Helen Schaffitz, Lota Tibbles, Virginia Rosewall, Hazel Mahoney, Happy Graham, Della McCurdy, and Margaret Blake. Lota won high and Happy won low. Happy told me she thought she always won low! Not everyone can do that. I always end up in the middle, you know—not even a booby prize!

FRIDAY AFTERNOON pinochle club members were guests of Beulah Mankin last week. She served dessert preceding play to Hannah Anderson, Gladys Beckett, Carrie Beckett, Mary Harris, Doris Watkins, Pearl Wright, and Millie Evans. Guess who won? Beulah! Did she use spotted cards? Low went to Hannah, and Gladys and Carrie won the double pinochle.

ANNE SMOUSE is still talking about the Broadway show she saw in New York. She said she had planned for so long to see it and wondered if she would be disappointed. Not so! Just back from her trip, and I heard her mention another tour scheduled for the southern states next fall! So, Ola, get out those maps and start planning!

BARBARA GRIBBLE celebrated her thirteenth birthday with dinner "out" at the Teen club, to the movies, and back home for a slumber party with four classmates as guests. Joining in the fun and excitement were Brenda Young, Diane Schaffitz, Erna Lynn Winchester, and Meridy Webb. Wonder if Syb Wells recovered from the slumber party—five talkative girls! As for Barbara, she was oh so glad to be 13, she had been 12 for so long!

JUNE BELLENBROCK won high at the Bridgettes get-together last Friday night with Inez Meador as hostess. Elsie Cole won second high and Bebe Munkers won low. Highlight was the delicious smorgasbord served during the evening of play. Girls, what about those diets? Others taking part were Kay Robinson, Lillian Sweek, Mabel Heath, and Edda Mae Lovgren.

TUESDAY ENDED the Elks weekly duplicate bridge play with Phil Mahoney and LaVerne Van Marter winning high, north-south. Second went to Gordon Pratt and Bert Huff. High, east-west, were Lillian Sweek and Elsie Cole with Hazel Hamlin and Grace Turner winning second.

DO YOU KNOW the Squared-up Rounders square dance club

is still active and they invite anyone interested to join them every first and third Saturday night at the Wranglers club-house. Hubert Wilson, president, can tell you more about the club. Last month they hosted the Condon square dance group and plan other activities.

ELKS LADIES NIGHT last Thursday, with Marjorie Worden, Ruth and Marilyn Bergstrom, Kay Anderson, Gladys Beckett, Esther Bergstrom, Florence Beckett, and Wavel Wilkinson as hostesses entertained with 11 tables of bridge and pinochle in play. They served festive fall decorated homemade cookies and coffee during the evening. Grace Nickerson won high at bridge, Daisy Collins, second; and Grace Turner, Jack high. Pinochle winners were Carrie Beckett, high; Martha Van Schoelack, second; and Martha Lane, the door prize.

SOME 40 PERSONS attended the joint American Legion and auxiliary potluck supper at the hall Monday night. They held separate business meetings following the supper with discussions on the forthcoming Veteran's Day breakfast at the hall starting at 4:00 a. m. They invite all you early-bird elk hunters for some good eating. Hazel Hamlin, auxiliary president, says she hates to get up at that hour, but she and others will be there giving out with the hotcakes, ham, bacon and eggs, and steaming coffee! Sounds good and for a good cause, too!

ANITA STOCKARD was hostess for Mother's club at her home Monday night with Esther Kirmis, county agent, giving the lesson for making the ever popular smoked pillows. They discussed plans for the special Christmas meeting in December. Also last year's president, Rita Wolff, received her past president's pin. Mrs. Everett (Bernice) Struckmeier was a guest.

FOURTEEN MEMBERS were present for the Co-op Biddies meeting in Lexington Monday afternoon. They brought with them the items they made to enter the Hen House Fair in Portland this month. Representing the Co-op group, Edna Turner and Fay Ferguson will attend an art workshop in Pendleton Saturday to bring back hobby and craft ideas for the members' use.

I HAVE this week a delicious, very moist, applesauce cake recipe which comes to me from Mrs. Creston Robinson. Kay got the recipe from her mother, Mrs. Lena Kelley, and she doubles it for her family of four. They especially like it for hunting lunches. Kay and I made two of them at her home last month, they are easy and quickly made and practically fool-proof!

Applesauce Cake
1 cup sugar
½ cup butter or shortening
1½ cup applesauce
1 t (rounding) soda
½ t salt
1 t cinnamon
½ t cloves
2 cups flour
1 cup raisins and/or nuts (optional)

Cream butter and sugar, add applesauce, and sift in dry ingredients, beat until smooth, bake in medium size loaf pan for 30 to 45 minutes at 350 degrees.

MRS. CAL SUMNER sent me this frosting recipe, one that kids really go for.

Frosting
½ cup jelly
1 egg white
Put into small bowl and beat until the desired stiffness. Jerry says she uses any jelly she has handy.

GOOD SUPPLIES of frozen vegetables are available with October holdings one-third more than last year. Look for frozen food buys in the markets. In meat buys, beef is still the leader, especially the cuts from the loin, rib, and chuck, although chuck prices will rise in the next month. Veal is still very high, expect pork prices to start going down and bacon prices are dropping.

I NEED recipes, how about a stew recipe, and Thanksgiving recipes for later this month. Also would like Christmas holiday tips on decorations, foods, and gifts.

Local Women Enjoy New England Tour

Mrs. Anne Smouse, Mrs. Ola Buggles, and Mrs. Frank Tews, Seattle, returned Friday from a 30-day Trailways New England holiday tour sponsored by the Grange.

They left with other tour members on October 4 from Portland to Lake Chelan, Wn., and through Southern Canada on the new Trans-Canadian highway through Medicine Hat, Winnipeg to Quebec for a three-day stay.

From Quebec they journeyed to Boston and enjoyed a trip through the historical part of the city and into New York for a few days' stay. While there they attended the Broadway show "My Fair Lady," and Jan Murray's TV show, "Charge Account." Then they visited Washington, D. C., for a look through the Capitol, White House, and Arlington cemetery and other interesting places there.

On Sunday in New York they attended Marble Collegiate church to hear Dr. Norman Vincent Peale.

They returned home by way of Cleveland, Chicago, and stopped in Rapid City for a side tour to Mt. Rushmore to view the Rushmore Memorial. They stopped at Mitchell, S. D., to see a most unusual building called Corn Palace which is used for recreation performances and seats 5,000 persons. The outside of the building, which takes in one-half square block, is decorated with split corn cobs arranged geometrically in beautiful paintings depicting pioneer scenes. The building is re-decorated each year using 2,000 to 3,000 bushels of corn at a cost of $15,000. Inside there are "corn paintings" of pioneer scenes but they are not re-set each year.

Mrs. Smouse said the weather was very nice, just missed the storms, and they enjoyed the beautiful fall colors everywhere.

Mrs. Booth Honored With Shower Party

Mrs. John Rogers entertained with a baby shower Monday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Robert Booth. Friends were invited at 3:00 p. m. for a social gathering, presenting the honor guest with a baby stroller from those attending.

Present were Mrs. Arnold Springer, Mrs. Ray Williamson, Mrs. Sam Nagel, Mrs. Dave Hadcock, Mrs. Ken Magrew and the hostess, Mrs. Rogers. Mrs. Sam Miller assisted with the gift, but was unable to attend.

Card Party Scheduled

Bridge and pinochle enthusiasts are reminded of the card party planned for Friday, November 17, by the Lexington Altar Society. It will be held at St. Patrick's parish hall, starting at 8:00 p. m. A special door prize of a Thanksgiving basket will be presented to a lucky winner. Tickets are on sale now from members at $1 each.

Sorority Has Meeting At D. McLeod Home

IONE—Beta Omega Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha met at the home of Mrs. David McLeod, in Heppner, Wednesday evening, November 1.

Mrs. Eldon Padberg gave a reading on the history and ideals of our sorority. A floor plan for the bazaar was presented and further plans discussed. The remainder of the evening was spent making Christmas novelties for the bazaar, under the supervision of Mr. Sam Crawford.

Mrs. Gene Rietmann was a guest for the evening. Hostesses were Mrs. McLeod, Mrs. Robert Hoskins and Mrs. Ted Palmateer.

Mother's Club Hears Program On Pillows

A program of interest to members of the Mother's club was presented by Miss Esther Kirmis on the making of the popular smoked sofa pillows. The group met at the home of Mrs. Neta Stockard, with Mrs. Charles Knox serving as co-hostess.

A guest for the evening was Mrs. Everett Struckmeier, high school business teacher. During the business period, discussion was held on the annual dinner party during February and committees were named for making the necessary plans. A Christmas party is planned for the December meeting.

Degree of Honor Dinner For Nov. 14

Members and families of the Degree of Honor Protective association are invited to attend the annual Thanksgiving dinner planned for November 14 in the basement of the Christian church.

The dinner is set for 6:30 p. m., with meat, rolls and coffee being furnished by the Degree of Honor. Other food to complete the meal is to be potluck. Lodge will follow at 8:00 p. m., at which time a nominating committee will be named.
